

BIBLIOGRAPHY

---

- ACT WorkCover Newsletter. Issue No. 2. July-October 1999.
- Australian Bureau of Statistics, Australian Historical Population Statistics, 3105.0.65.001.
- Australian Bureau of Statistics (2004), Deaths, Australia. 2003. 3302.0.
- Australian Bureau of Statistics (2005) Year Book Australia. Cat. no. 1301.0-2005.
- Australian Consumers Association (2004) 'Prepaid funeral protection', Choice, May, 2004.
- Australian Funeral Directors Association, AFDA News, 2 (4), June 1983.
- Australian Funeral Directors Association, AFDA News, 4 (1), September 1984.
- Australian Funeral Directors Association, AFDA News, 6 (1), Summer 1986.
- Australian Funeral Directors Association The Australian Funeral Director, 24 (1), September 2002.
- Australian Funeral Directors Association, The Australian Funeral Director, 26 (1), September 2004.
- 'Body switch anguish', Sunday Herald Sun, 24 February 2002, p 9.
- Chambers, D. (1994) One hundred years of Le Pine 1891 – 1991. Hyland House: South Melbourne, Victoria.
- Consumer Affairs Council of Victoria (1975) Report for the year ended 30th June, 1975.
- Consumer Affairs Victoria (2004) Discussion paper: What do we mean by 'vulnerable' and 'disadvantaged' consumers? CAV: Melbourne.
- Daniel, A.E. (1983) Power, privilege and prestige: Occupations in Australia. Longman Cheshire: Melbourne.
- Douthit, D. (1996) 'Universal precautions: Is it working?' The Director, 68 (12).

- Four Corners, The Coffin Chasers, ABC, 14 October 2002.
- Funeral Ombudsman Scheme (2001) Annual Report. Newcastle upon Tyne, England.
- Gray, D., 'The Dying Game', The Age, 15 November 2004.
- Greenwood, V.A. (2001) Weathering Storms on the Stygian Ferry: The Economic, Social and Cultural Impacts of Globalisation on the Australian Funeral Industry. Unpublished thesis. Macquarie University.
- Griffin, G.M. & Tobin, D. (1982) In the midst of life...the Australian response to death. MUP: Melbourne.
- Haberfield, I., 'Call to probe 'shonky burials'', Sunday Herald Sun, 27 April 2003.
- Hannan, E., 'Grave Concerns', The Age, 20 December 2003.
- Hermanson, S. (2000) The Deathcare Industry. AARP Public Policy Institute, USA.
- IBISWorld Australia (2004) Q9524 - Funeral Directors, Crematoria and Cemeteries in Australia. 26 October 2004.
- Kroshus, J.M. and Tibbetts, S. (1997) 'Critical incident stress among funeral directors'. The American Funeral Director, 120 (4).
- Legal Services Branch (1991) Review of the funeral industry with regard to pre-paid funerals. Ministry of Consumer Affairs, Victoria.
- NSW Health (2002) Review of the Public Health Act 1991: Regulatory Impact Statement.
- NSW Health (2004) Guidelines for the Funeral Industry.
- Office of Consumer and Business Affairs (2003) Discussion Paper: NCP Review of the Fair Trading Act 1987 - Final Report. South Australia.
- Office of Fair Trading (2001) Funerals: A report of the OFT inquiry into the funerals industry. United Kingdom.
- Report of the Select Committee on the Cemetery Provisions of the Local Government Act, November 2003, Parliament of South Australia.
- Pitt, H. (1991) Death, here is they sting. The Bulletin, November 26, 1991, p 62.

Prices Surveillance Authority (1992) Investigation into Funeral Prices. Report No. 39.

Roterman, M. (2001) Canada's funeral services industry in the 1990s. Analytical Paper Series No 35. Statistics Canada.

Ryan, N. & Furneaux, C. (2004) Best Practice in Funeral Industry Regulation. Report prepared for the Funeral Industry Regulation Working Party (Queensland) by the Centre for Philanthropy and Nonprofit Studies of the School of Management, Queensland University of Technology.

Treherly, R (2002) Talking about training - literacy and numeracy practices in industry: a comparative study across five industries. University of South Australia.

Van Bergen, J. (2004) The stages of industry growth. Investopedia.com.

Walker, C.F. (1984) The Growth of Concentration in the Melbourne Funeral Industry 1900-1980. Unpublished thesis. Monash University.

Woodroffe, G. (2002) Last rites of the Funeral Ombudsman Scheme. The Ombudsman. No. 19.

