

One of the primary ways society expresses itself, it's stories, it's aspirations. It is how we teach our young. it is A place people can go and create, simply switch off or express their anger without harming others. a crucial building block of society.

Please, please make sure that it is part if every child's core education.

It is indeed the soother of savage beasts

Noel matthews

