SUBMISSION CONTENT:

Forgotten Australians Justice Committee would like to submit that the terms of reference also cover state and federal institutions, failing to do so will only give credence to the allegations of cover ups and corruption. State, Church, Salvation Army, Anglicare, St Vincent De Paul, Barnardos etc etc should and must be held accountable for the perverse and abhorrant practices perpetrated on the most vulnerable citizens of our society, the children. The government estimate there are over 500'000 forgotten australians and when you take into account there immediate families you start to get a picture of how much of the Australian population is effected. Victoria Police also need to be brought to task for knowingly placing vulnerable children into the care of known registered sex offenders on over 70 occasions.
