

Voluntary Euthanasia -

I have nothing but contempt for the Medical Profession, Politicians & Bible Bashers. If the People are for VE by something like 70%+ - then WHO other is holding this nation back from having their wishes met.

Implementing a fair & just Tax system in this country is clearly on par with the VE issue & vested interests here (ideologically & financially) are clutching to their unjust self-serving beliefs like no other... under the disguise called 'Democracy'.

Maybe once the Suicide rate amongst the terminally ill reaches a certain volume, our manipulating Masters will be forced to concede that VE should become a reality for hundreds, if not thousands of incapacitated &/or terminally ill folk.

At 73 with Bone Metastases Cancer & possibly only 6 months on my side - I won't hold my breath offcourse, hoping-waiting that either the States or the Commonwealth will sanction anything like VE.

If the Neanderthals could be side-lined in this debate, all it takes for the rationally & logically balanced decision makers to look at the Swiss-Zurich VE Model...

http://www.dignitas.ch/index.php?option=com_content&view=article&id=22&lang=en to then expose this nation's do-gooders 'persistence line' that Men with white Coats will run rampant injecting all & sundry, often at the wishes of third parties involved.

Considering where we are at on VE in Australia - Suicide will more than likely be my only option.

This takes courage beyond belief & others should not be involved in having to clean-up the mess!!!

VE the Swiss way for example - is the only way - so get going Australia, Victoria - or whichever State.

It's time for Australia to break free of it's eternally lingering (follow but not lead) Convict Mentality timidity.

H.Lechner