This is a very clear thing...it is nobodies business to take a persons PERSONAL CHOICE away from them. Is that not why we are a free country??

The emotional strain on a family is not a politicians choice, or a random persons choice. It is that persons choice.

To die with dignity and in peace and in the way that person wishes is the kindest thing. We do it to our beloved animals and all say it was the kindest thing.

I had an Aunty that went through a vicious cancer but she wanted to live so for her this would not have been an option. But I had a friend whos grandfather was begging to die everyday for months and months and months...he ended up starving himself to death. This is cruel, awful, terrifying and distressing.

IT IS A CHOICE.

And of course laws need to be put in place but please make these laws.
