

Dear Mr Topic

I have been deaf all my life. I was an only child - my mother was an actress so my hearing didn't bother her - My Father was an art teacher so it didn't bother him.

My husband married me because I lived in Torak & must therefore be rich! We were both single children so I insisted on having 2 - so there would be a play mate.

But my ear problem got worse & so the family left me in the kitchen while they spent their time together.

So now I can hear one person in a small room & left to rot by the other mates.

I don't blame them but I would like to join my parents & friends to save a huge out lay of money.
