Dear Madame,

I am writing to inform you that I am totally opposed to an action which will lead to the legalisation of voluntary euthanasia in Victoria.

As an elderly citizen of 86 years, I would like to feel confident that when I go to hospital the medical staff will be concentrating on saving my life, not bringing it to an end. I also have a strong moral objection to the idea of giving anyone the right to take human life, and the abuses of this right, which could follow.

Yours faithfully
