Please do not allow euthanasia bills to be passed in Vic Parliament. We are lessening the value of human life if we do so. God is and should be the giver and taker of life, not man. In places like Holland and Belgium there are too many cases where people unknowingly are "killed off" due to bad medical practices and unclear guide-lines, for those suffering physically and mentally. Apparently my mother-in-law's brother met the same fate years ago. If we are after a "super-human" race, do we then kill off disabled people, like our son? I should hope not! Christopher Reeves was Superman one day and disabled man the next. Nobody would have killed him off just due to disability. People get jobs looking after disabled people. Medicos are meant to help people live, not do the opposite.
