G'day. I'm opposed to the introduction of laws that would legalise assisted suicide. No person should be able to legally assist someone to die. People are able to commit suicide by themselves but no person should be given the responsibility of assisting a suicide. The possibility of abuse of power over the vulnerable in society is a risk that is not worth taking. Far better to provide best practice palliative care for the sick and aged people and suicide prevention for the vulnerable youth and disabled.
