

Dear Ms Topic,

Both on principle and from personal experience I support voluntary euthanasia, and strongly urge the Government to introduce it.

Despite sympathetic and competent palliative care in a hospice, my late stepfather suffered appalling pain from prostate cancer during his 3-month stay. I would never wish his suffering upon anyone else, and believe that all mentally competent adults should be able to decide for themselves whether to continue medical treatment, or to seek a swift and peaceful death.

Thank you for your attention,

Yours faithfully,
