I am making this submission as I would like to have choices at the end of my life. I have seen so many people suffer needlessly who did not have a choice. I think the majority of the public would feel more at peace if they knew they were options for them at the end of life. I do not wish to suffer myself. I strongly support voluntary euthanasia. I can take my dog to a vet and have him euthanised without question. This is still a life. I would be in trouble if I let him suffer. Why do we not have these options for peopl?? For the so called religious people.....how is an animals life different to a humans?? We need this NOW
