Sirs,

I would like to make a submission to the above Inquiry.

The thought of an undignified death fills me with dread.

What is an undignified death? One where I am so ill that I have no hope of recovering, in constant pain and enduring the degradation of not being able even to wash or feed my self. And yet am in full control of my mind, pleading with a loved one to assist my dying with dignity, knowing that that loved-one is in danger of prosecution by helping me.

Please make it legal to assist with a loved one's decision to voluntarily die. This is happening all around the world, where safeguards have proven this law cannot be abused.

Yours faithfully

KAY BARNES
