The only people that are not pro this issue have not had to sit back, as we had to back in 1968 and watch a loved family member die a slow agonising death and as there has been no advancement regarding this issue, then in 47 years, little, or more to the point no progress has been made at all. Politicians should not be able to make decisions as they have, it should be put to the vote at the next election. Let the people who pay their wages make the decision for them as they seem incapable of making the right decision with regard to the impossible situation some of us may one day find ourselves in. Legislation should be prepared and a referendum held. Politicians, even with the internet now available, still seem to trot off on an overseas jaunt at the drop of a hat to see how things are done in other countries well this should be one of those trips they need to take so they can travel to every country that has laws in place to allow for this contingency, check them out and get them in place here.
