MEDIA RELEASE

Essential Services Commission at rate cap hearing

The Environment and Planning Committee will hear from Victoria's independent regulator of essential services this Wednesday 24 May at the next public hearing for the rate capping inquiry.

The public hearing with the Essential Services Commission will be held at 7:00 pm in the Knight Kerr Room at Parliament House.

The Committee is examining the outcome of the Victorian Government's rate capping policy on councils' viability, service impacts on local communities and impacts on the provision of local infrastructure.

Its next report on the inquiry is due to be tabled in June.

More details on the inquiry are available from the Committee's website.
