NEW CLAUSE

1. Insert the following New Clause before clause 1—

"1AA Statement for this Act

The Parliament recognises the right of all Victorians to be free from vilification and to participate equally in a democratic society.

The diversity of the people of Victoria enhances our community and Victorians embrace the benefits provided by this diversity and are proud that people live together harmoniously. However, vilification is still occurring in Victoria.

Vilification harms social cohesion through its inherent divisiveness and perpetuates the unequal distribution of power. Vilifying conduct is contrary to democratic values because of its effect on the people who are subjected to it. It diminishes their dignity, sense of self-worth and belonging to their community and can cause profound physical and psychological harm. It also reduces their ability to contribute to, or fully participate in, all social, political, economic and cultural aspects of society as equals, thus reducing the benefit that diversity brings to the community.

It is the intention of Parliament to enact law for the people of Victoria that respects the inherent dignity of all of us and promotes our equal participation in public life.".

(a) the application specifies that an interim workplace protection order is sought; or

(b) the Court is satisfied, on application or on its own initiative, that—

Note

Section 114I provides for the conditions imposed under these orders.

(2) An interim workplace protection order ceases to have effect at the following time—

Note

Commencement of the order is provided for by section 114J.

(4) In making an interim workplace protection order, the Court must specify the place that is the workplace in respect of which the order is made.

114H Making of workplace protection order

(5) If the Court is to make a workplace protection order in accordance with subsection (1)(b)—

(a) it does not matter whether the Court would be satisfied as described in subsection (1)(a); and

(b) the Court does not need to have regard to the matters set out in subsection (2).

(a) the employer who made, or on whose behalf was made, the application on which the order is made; and

(b) that employer's employees; and

(5) A condition imposed under a workplace protection order or an interim workplace protection order may be imposed for a specified period that is shorter than the duration of the order.

(6) In addition to the conditions imposed under subsection (1), the Court must impose a condition requiring the respondent to surrender all firearms (within the meaning of the Firearms Act 1996) and ammunition to a police station unless satisfied that—

(a) there are cogent reasons not to impose the condition; and

(b) the respondent possessing those firearms and ammunition does not represent an undue risk to the safety and protection of a person referred to in subsection (2).

(7) Section 112T of the Firearms Act 1996 applies in relation to the surrender of firearms and ammunition under subsection (6) subject to the modification set out in subsection (8).

(8) Section 112T(2) of the Firearms Act 1996, as applied by subsection (7), authorises the police officer referred to in that subsection to retain the firearms and ammunition until there is no longer in force any workplace protection order or interim workplace protection against the respondent that includes the condition provided for by subsection (6).

114J Commencement of order

(c) how the order may be varied or revoked; and

(d) that if the person encourages, permits or authorises the respondent in committing an offence against section 114N, the person may also commit an offence.

(4) A failure of the Court to comply with this section does not affect the validity of a workplace protection order or interim workplace protection order.

114L Duration of workplace protection order

(2) The Court must not specify a period longer than 12 months unless satisfied that exceptional circumstances justify that longer period.

(3) If the Court specifies a period under subsection (1), the workplace protection order has effect until the end of the period.

(4) If the Court does not specify a period under subsection (1), the workplace protection order has effect until the first anniversary of the day on which it comes into effect.

(i) the employer who made, or on whose behalf was made, the application on which the order was made; and

(ii) that employer's employees; and

(iii) the other persons in the workplace in respect of which the order is made; and

(b) in the case of a variation, the Court is satisfied that, if an application had been made under section 114E to make the order as proposed to be varied—

(i) making that order would have been in accordance with section 114G or 114H (as the case requires); and

(ii) imposing the conditions to be imposed under that order would have been in accordance with section 114I.

(4) In varying an order under subsection (3), the Court may—

(3) cohealth will have to begin wrapping up services at the end of April, if no funding is offered before then;

(4) staff and patients deserve certainty that they will be able to continue to deliver and access free, integrated healthcare at their local community health centre;

(5) community pressure resulted in an emergency $1.5 million from the Federal Government in 2025 to keep cohealth operating until 31 July 2026;

(7) Infrastructure Victoria has recommended that the Victorian Government increase community health funding from 0.3 to three per cent of their health infrastructure budget;

(8) community health centres play a critical role in Victoria's healthcare system and cohealth's closure and reduction in services would be disastrous and result in increased poverty, disadvantage, poor health and hospital overloading;

(6) robust political debate is critical to ensuring that issues of public concern are subject to discussion and consideration in our democratic institutions; and calls on the Government to review the Model Councillor Code of Conduct and associated laws and regulations to ensure that councillors are free to express opinions and challenge ideas and policies without being subjected to lengthy arbitration processes.

(2) reforms passed in 2024 replaced this requirement by imposing a Model Councillor Code of Conduct to all Councils and limiting the scope of internal resolution procedures;

10 VICTORIA POLICE'S CANNABIS CAUTIONING SCHEME — Rachel Payne moved, That this House notes that —

(1) the Victoria Police Operational Manual states that —

(a) Victoria Police support the appropriate use of cautions, with the aim of redirecting eligible persons away from contact with the formal criminal justice system;

(b) in September 2024, Victoria Police updated guidance in relation to adult cannabis cautions to expand eligibility to include —

(i) removing restrictions on the number of cautions or diversions a person can be subject to;

(ii) removing the requirement that no other offences be involved unless deemed ineligible offences, that is all indictable offences that are not triable summarily;

(2) recent Crime Statistics Agency data shows that —

(a) in 2021, 34 per cent of unique alleged offenders received a cannabis caution compared to 2025 where 37.5 per cent of unique alleged offenders received a cannabis caution, despite the revised guidance;

(b) rates of cautioning for Indigenous people are 11 times lower than the rate of non-Indigenous Victorians in the cannabis possession statistics;

(3) given the broadened eligibility and removal of limits on cautions, the absence of a legislative framework risks inconsistent application, and supports the case for establishing the cannabis cautioning scheme in legislation to promote consistency, transparency and accountability; and calls on the Government to investigate options for legislative reform to Victoria Police's cannabis cautioning scheme.

Debate ensued.

   (a) net debt per Victorian household of over $70,000;

(a) in October 2022 the Victorian Government announced $49.2 million for accessibility upgrades at Ballarat Station as part of Commonwealth Games legacy infrastructure commitments;

(b) despite the cancellation of the Commonwealth Games in July 2023, the project proceeded without a revised business case or cost-benefit analysis;

(c) the published cost of the project has continued to increase, including a further increase in the 2025-26 State Budget attributed to market escalation;

(d) serious concerns have been raised that the total cost of the project is vastly disproportionate to its physical scope including a 28-metre pedestrian bridge, two lifts, stairs and a ramp, and that comparable infrastructure could be delivered by the private sector for a fraction of the published cost;

(2) in accordance with Standing Order 10.01, requires the Leader of the Government to table in the Council, within three weeks of the House agreeing to this resolution, the following documents —

(a) the business case for the Ballarat Station Upgrade, including any revision following the 2023 cancellation of the Commonwealth Games;

(b) all documents relating to project cost increases, including gateway reviews, ministerial briefings and departmental advice;

(c) all documents relating to the procurement model for the project, including the allocation of the project to the Western Program Alliance;

(1) notes —

(a) a report by Infrastructure Australia in 2025 that questioned the financial viability of the Victorian Government's Suburban Rail Loop (SRL) East project;

(b) that the Infrastructure Australia report advised that before committing further funding to SRL East, the Federal Government should receive and approve at least the following additional information from the proponent —

(i) an updated and detailed cost estimate for the SRL East and supporting station precinct interventions;

(ii) a comprehensive funding and financing strategy with supporting quantitative analysis that details how value capture will fund one-third of SRL East's cost;

(iii) analysis (including cost-benefit analysis) that demonstrates the benefits of the SRL East in terms of social, economic and environmental outcomes and its contribution to the SRL program;

(iv) contingencies and an 'exit strategy' should the project experience cost blow-outs or funding shortfalls or where expected benefits fail to materialise;

(c) that in 2026, Infrastructure Australia revised its views on the project, presumably based on information provided by the Victorian Government;

(d) that this supplementary information provided by the Victorian Government has not been made public; and

(2) requires the Leader of the Government, in accordance with Standing Order 10.01, to table in the Council within 30 days of the House agreeing to this resolution, a copy of the information provided to Infrastructure Australia relating to paragraphs (1)(b)(i) to (iv).

(1) condemns the Premier for a failure of leadership that has left Victoria less safe, less liveable, more indebted, and less confident in the integrity of government;

(2) notes that under the Allan Labor Government —

(a) Victoria's health system is closing beds, cancelling surgeries and struggling to pay its bills, while patients wait too long for ambulances, emergency treatment and elective surgery;

(b) crime has reached its highest level since records began, while 1,500 police positions remain unfilled, police stations have been cut, and Labor's weak bail laws have forced repeated crisis-driven reversals;

(c) alleged CFMEU corruption on Big Build projects has exposed a culture of secrecy, waste and criminal infiltration, at an estimated $15 billion cost to taxpayers;

(d) state debt is forecast to approach $200 billion, with interest repayments exceeding $32 million a day, draining funding from essential services, costing families and businesses more;

(e) the cost of living has worsened under this Government addicted to higher taxes, higher charges and political gimmicks;

(3) further notes that even Labor members of Parliament are now discussing whether the only way to defend Labor's record is to find someone else to front it;

(4) believes that Victorians do not need a new salesman for the same failed Government, but a change of Government; and

(5) declares that Victoria cannot afford more chaos, cover-ups and excuses from a Premier who will not accept responsibility for Labor's failures in crime, health, integrity, debt and cost of living.

(2) notes that under the Allan Labor Government —

(a) Victoria's health system is closing beds, cancelling surgeries and struggling to pay its bills, while patients wait too long for ambulances, emergency treatment and elective surgery;

(b) crime has reached its highest level since records began, while 1,500 police positions remain unfilled, police stations have been cut, and Labor's weak bail laws have forced repeated crisis-driven reversals;

(c) alleged CFMEU corruption on Big Build projects has exposed a culture of secrecy, waste and criminal infiltration, at an estimated $15 billion cost to taxpayers;

(d) state debt is forecast to approach $200 billion, with interest repayments exceeding $32 million a day, draining funding from essential services, costing families and businesses more;

(e) the cost of living has worsened under this Government addicted to higher taxes, higher charges and political gimmicks;

(3) further notes that even Labor members of Parliament are now discussing whether the only way to defend Labor's record is to find someone else to front it;

(4) believes that Victorians do not need a new salesman for the same failed Government, but a change of Government; and

(5) declares that Victoria cannot afford more chaos, cover-ups and excuses from a Premier who will not accept responsibility for Labor's failures in crime, health, integrity, debt and cost of living.

(1) notes that Victoria's road network is fundamental to the safety, economic prosperity and connectivity of communities across metropolitan, regional and rural Victoria;

(2) acknowledges that Victorians rely on a safe and well-maintained road network for access to employment, education, healthcare, freight transport, tourism, and emergency services;

13 LEADERSHIP IN THE LABOR PARTY — Bev McArthur moved, That this House —
(1) notes that after more than a decade of Labor Government, Victorians now have their third Labor Premier in three years, the second in a row installed by factions of the Labor Party;
(2) further notes that the new Premier, the Hon. Ben Carroll MP —
(a) served as Deputy Premier throughout a Government mired in CFMEU corruption allegations, record debt approaching $200 billion and record crime;
(b) as Minister for Education, presided over botched VCE exams, the collapse of teacher pay negotiations, statewide strikes and lost learning for Victorian children;
(c) refused to support a royal commission into Big Build corruption, dismissing it as something that would take too long and cost too much;
(3) observes that Mr Carroll's sudden leadership challenge, after publicly looking Premier Allan in the eye, pledging loyalty only weeks earlier, exposes the division, dishonesty and desperation inside Victorian Labor;
(4) further observes that elevating the Deputy Premier of a failing Government is not 'renewal' but rewarding failure, and that swapping one architect of the mess for another is factional juggling, not real change;

(5) declares that every crisis confronting Victoria today, in crime, health, education, housing, debt and integrity, was created by the Cabinet in which Mr Carroll sat as Deputy Premier; and

(6) concludes that the only leadership ballot that can fix Victoria is November's election, when Victorians finally get the vote Labor's factions have twice denied them and can throw this entire failed Government out of office.

5 PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS — BOX HILL BRICKWORKS SITE — Richard Welch moved, That this House —

(1) notes that —

(a) the Box Hill Brickworks site, disused for 40 years, was never contemplated for residential use under the Whitehorse Planning Scheme, given its contamination;

(b) the most recent Environment Protection Authority report identifies buried benzo(a)pyrene, a known carcinogen, and advises against development without remediation;

(c) the Allan Government rezoned the site in 2025 for high-rise residential development at substantially increased heights, now gazetted;

(d) no study demonstrating site safety has been released, nor the rezoning's basis explained;

(2) in accordance with Standing Order 10.01, requires the Leader of the Government to table in the Council, within 14 days of the House agreeing to this resolution, all documents created since 1 January 2022, including briefs, correspondence, advice, reports, assessments and minutes, held by the Minister for the Suburban Rail Loop, Minister for Planning, Suburban Rail Loop Authority, Department of Transport and Planning or Environment Protection Authority, relating to —

6 PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS — AI DATA CENTRE DEVELOPMENTS — Sarah Mansfield moved, That this House —

(1) notes that —
(a) the Victorian Labor Government has publicly committed to aggressive investment in artificial intelligence (AI) data centre development across Victoria;
(b) Victoria's data centre energy demand has nearly doubled over the last 12 months to 187 megawatts and some estimates predict data centres could consume eight per cent of the State's electricity by 2030 and up to 19 per cent by 2050;
(c) there are at least 30 more data centres currently proposed for Victoria, which will consume 9GW of power, or the equivalent of five to seven million homes;
(d) the Climate Council forecasts that data centre growth will inflate Victoria's wholesale power prices as much as 23 per cent by 2035;
(e) the Climate Council also identified that the enormous electricity demands of AI data centres will threaten Victoria's net zero target by prolonging our reliance on burning coal and gas; and
(2) requires the Leader of the Government, in accordance with Standing Order 10.01, to table in the Council, within four weeks of the House agreeing to this resolution, all modelling, including under different scenarios, and briefings that the Government has received from departments and commissioned advice regarding data centres and the current and anticipated impact on wholesale and retail energy prices.

7 USE OF ELECTRONIC PRESCRIBING BY VETERINARIANS — Georgie Purcell moved, That this House notes that —

(1) veterinarians play an essential role in public health, animal welfare, biosecurity, agriculture, and community wellbeing;

(2) the veterinary industry is currently facing significant workforce pressures, mental health risks and financial vulnerabilities;
(3) the veterinary industry is hamstrung by a slow and burdensome paper prescribing requirement, resulting in significant time being dedicated to paperwork at the expense of patient care;
(4) this is a contributing factor to vet stress and burnout and results in significant barriers to accessibility, cost and animal welfare;
(5) electronic scripting would significantly reduce administrative workload for veterinary clinics, ease workforce pressures, and position Victoria as a national leader in animal health technology;
(6) allowing pet owners and farmers to have prescriptions dispensed by a pharmacy of their choice would reduce medication costs and align the veterinary sector with doctors, dentists, optometrists, midwives and nurse practitioners;
(7) this simple but meaningful change would provide cost-of-living relief, relieve vet pressures, improve animal welfare and improve access for regional Victorians, who often have to travel long distances to a clinic;
(8) work is underway by agriculture departments and ministers across Australia to enhance biosecurity and animal health through the introduction of e-prescribing;

and calls on the Government to investigate all options to enable these reforms, including via gazettal or other methods.

9 ROYAL COMMISSION INTO CORRUPTION, CRIMINALITY AND MISCONDUCT ACROSS ALL GOVERNMENT-FUNDED CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS — Bev McArthur moved,

That this House —

(1) notes —

(a) in February 2026, this House called for a Royal Commission into corruption on Big Build sites, supported by every non-government party, and Labor ignored it;

(b) the Premier twice dismissed a Royal Commission before reversing his position on becoming Premier;

(c) the Premier served as Roads and Public Transport Minister, concedes he may be called as a witness, and is writing the terms for an inquiry into a Government he helped lead;

(2) affirms that a Royal Commission must —

(a) investigate corruption, criminality and misconduct across all government-funded construction projects since December 2014, not merely Big Build sites or the CFMEU;

(b) examine unions, contractors, subcontractors, labour-hire firms, ministerial offices, departments and agencies, including how projects were selected, procured, administered and funded;

(c) determine what current and former Premiers, Ministers, advisers and senior officials knew, when they knew it and what they did, including early public examination of the Hon. Daniel Andrews, Hon. Jacinta Allan MP, and Hon. Ben Carroll MP;

(d) follow public money to organised crime, outlaw motorcycle gangs, contractors, political organisations, and unions including redundancy, training and entitlement funds;

(e) be led by an independent interstate commissioner in consultation with the Opposition;

(f) commence public hearings before the election, obtain Cabinet records, and test claims of privilege and public interest immunity; and

(3) calls on the Government to adopt these requirements, because a narrow Labor-drafted inquiry into Labor's conduct would be no reckoning, merely the same old cover-up under new management.

(1) cannabis is the most widely consumed illicit substance in Australia and 80 per cent of Victorians support cannabis law reform;

(2) a plebiscite on cannabis legalisation would ensure that every Victorian has a direct voice in shaping one of the most significant and long overdue drug policy reforms of our time;

(3) we have endured nearly 100 years of prohibition, and this policy has failed to reduce use and failed to eliminate the illicit market;

(4) thousands of Victorians continue to come into contact with the criminal justice system simply for the personal use of small amounts of cannabis;

(5) First Nations people are disproportionately affected by the policing of cannabis and are 11 times more likely to be arrested for cannabis-related offences than non-Indigenous Victorians;

(6) as Victoria progresses Treaty, Parliament must address the ongoing inequities created by our current cannabis laws;

(c) large, old hollow-bearing trees providing irreplaceable habitats for endangered wildlife, including the Greater Glider and Leadbeater's Possum, are being felled based on desktop assessments, with no requirement to publicly record which trees are removed, why, or what wildlife may have been affected;

(d) community groups and scientists raising concerns have been met with non-engagement and forced to pursue costly court action as the only available accountability mechanism;

(e) Victoria is required to demonstrate these operations comply with the new National Environmental Standards for Matters of National Environmental Significance set by the Commonwealth Government;

(2) calls on the Government to —

(a) commit to genuine transparency over FFMV tree-felling and timber removal operations on public land;

(b) extend mandatory on the ground threatened species surveys to all non-emergency tree-felling operations on public land;

(c) establish an independent mechanism for community concerns regarding forest management to be properly investigated;
