1 What is tabling?

Presenting a document to Parliament is called ‘tabling’. Tabling ensures documents are officially publicly released and assists Parliament in its role of scrutinising the government.

2 What to provide to Parliament

To table a document in Parliament, you need to provide us with:

- a tabling letter
- pdf copy of your document
- hard copies (in some cases).

See details below.

2.1 Tabling letter

A tabling letter asks Parliament to table your document.

The letter should:

- name the document
- name the Act/section it is being tabled under
- request that the document be tabled
- include the date you want it tabled on — if there is no date we will table it on the next sitting day
- be signed by the minister/agency head (as appropriate) or someone who can sign on their behalf.

For annual reports tabled under the Financial Management Act 1994, the letter should also include the date the relevant Minister received the report for sign off.

Address your letter to the clerks:

Mr Robert McDonald	Ms Bridget Noonan
Clerk of the Legislative Council	Clerk of the Legislative Assembly
Parliament House	Parliament House
Spring Street	Spring Street
East Melbourne Vic 3002	East Melbourne Vic 3002

You can send 1 letter addressed to both clerks jointly.

Email it to tabling@parliament.vic.gov.au

2.2 Pdf copy

You must provide us with your report in pdf.

Email the pdf to tabling@parliament.vic.gov.au

Maximum size is 20 MB. But please try to make it much smaller so that you can easily email it.

Make sure that:

- the pdf does not include any unwanted tracked changes
- any redacted text is not searchable
- there is no confidential or redacted information in the metadata.

2.3 Hard copies

You only need to give us hard copies of your document if it is:

- more than 250 pages, or
- produced by a body with a close relationship with Parliament and is on the list below, or
- ordered to be tabled by either House \(production of documents\).

Documents with more than 250 pages¹

You must provide 2 hard copies.

Deliver to the Assembly Procedure Office.

Produced by bodies with a close relationship to Parliament²

You must provide 25 hard copies — if it is produced by:

- Auditor-General
- a board of inquiry
- IBAC
- Ombudsman
- Parliamentary Budget Officer — report of operations
- parliamentary committees
- Parliamentary Workplace Standards and Integrity Commission
- a royal commission
- Victorian Inspectorate

Deliver to the Assembly Procedure Office.

Production of documents

You must provide one hard copy to the House you are tabling in.

3 Deadlines

We must receive your document and tabling letter by the following cut off times:

For Tuesday tabling — by 5.00 pm Monday

For Wednesday tabling — by 5.00 pm Tuesday

For Thursday tabling — by 5.00 pm Wednesday

Tabling update

Change to cut off times for tabling (27 October to 3 December)

From 27 October to 3 December 2025, the cut off for tabling will change from 5.00 pm the day before you want to table your report, to 12.00 noon the day before.

This is to help with the large volume of reports we receive for tabling at this time of year.

4 Deliveries to Parliament — where to deliver hard copies

Documents with more than 250 pages and produced by bodies with a close relationship with Parliament	Council Table Office and Assembly Procedure Office Parliament of Victoria Spring Street East Melbourne VIC 3002 ph 9651 8563 (Assembly) ph 9651 8678 (Council)

¹ Each House is still required to physically table a hard copy and keep it in our archives. We require you to provide hard copies of large documents because we do not have the capacity to quickly print and bind large documents in time for tabling.

² Because of the close relationship these bodies have with Parliament, members often need a hard copy of their reports.

You can deliver in person, via post or use a courier. When you/the courier arrive, you will be required to go through security and have the documents scanned. Have the Assembly Procedure Office/Council Table Office number handy in case of any issues.

5 What happens in Parliament

5.1 When documents are tabled

Tabling takes place each sitting day during formal business. Normally, this occurs in both Houses on:

- Tuesday — after question time
- Wednesday — 9.40 am
- Thursday — 9.40 am

The Clerk reads out a list to the House of documents tabled.

For documents tabled by leave, the minister requesting the report to be tabled (or minister representing) must be present in the Chamber to seek leave to table the report. The Council Table Office/Assembly Procedure Office will prepare a reader for the minister.

5.2 Checking if your document has been tabled

Once documents are tabled, we publish them on the tabled documents database.

6 Tabling when Parliament is not sitting

Most documents can only be tabled on sitting days. You can only table your document on a non-sitting day if your Act specifically allows that. For more information, see the notes on Tabling when Parliament is not sitting or contact us.

7 Errors in documents

For information on the process for correcting errors in tabled reports, see the Errors in Tabled Documents notes.

8 Authorities for tabling

Documents may be tabled:

- Under an Act of Parliament (also called ‘pursuant to statute’)
- By Command of the Governor
- By leave of either House
- By Order of either House

8.1 Documents tabled under Acts of Parliament

Many Acts require ministers, departments and agencies to table documents in Parliament.

8.2 Documents presented by Command of the Governor

Some Acts require a document to be provided to the Governor. The Attorney-General, on behalf of the Governor, may then arrange for the report to be tabled in Parliament. The most common documents tabled by Command are the annual reports of the Supreme, County, Magistrates' and Children's courts.

8.3 Documents tabled by leave

If a document does not have to be tabled under an Act of Parliament, a member of Parliament may still arrange for it to be tabled. The document can only be tabled if the House gives permission (leave). Any member can seek leave of the House to table a document, however, it is most commonly done by ministers. If no member objects, then the document is tabled.

For more information, see our notes on tabling by leave.

8.4 Documents tabled by Order of the House (production of documents)

Either House, by resolution,³ can order that a particular document or other piece of information be presented to it. This is a common procedure in the Council and is called an 'order for the production of documents'. It is rarely used in the Assembly. Once we receive the documents, the Clerk will table the documents and any related correspondence in the House that asked for them.
