Commissioner's foreword

Our annual report for the 2025-2026 financial year demonstrates the continued increasing demand for OVIC's services and the positive impact of delivering our legislated obligations. It also continues to highlight the need for legislative change with regard to the legislation we oversee.

Victorian regulated entities again received a record number of FOI requests in 2025-2026, the majority from applicants seeking their own information. With citizens increasingly interested in accessing information held by regulated entities, as well as a general public desire for transparency, it is evident that the FOI Act is not fit for purpose. This is reflected in the number of requests processed by regulated entities within the statutory timeframe decreasing again this financial year.

Privacy and information security reforms are also needed to ensure that Victorian legislation is in step with other jurisdictions and that as an integrity agency we have the appropriate compliance tools at our disposal to prevent and remediate harms caused by data breaches.

Responding to the increased demand for our services is only part of OVIC's role. Our education and compliance functions are critical in upholding and protecting the information rights of all Victorians. This year we again addressed the use of AI tools by regulated entities and the public, updating our resources on using AI tools in government decision-making and publishing new guidance for the public on using AI tools to communicate with government organisations.

Our calendar of education and engagement events complemented these resources, including stakeholder roundtables, presentations and submissions made by OVIC's Commissioners, in addition to training and the delivery of our popular e-learning modules.

Compliance activities again involved the significant use of preliminary inquiries, rather than formal investigations, which provide for greater flexibility and faster compliance. However, our formal investigations remain central to exposing systemic failings and driving compliance. Investigations completed in 2025-2026 included finding a regulated entity's surveillance activities were not compliant with the PDP Act, and reporting on significant privacy breaches caused by data migration issues.

During this financial year, OVIC increased its proactive engagement with other integrity bodies and information rights organisations such as IBAC and the Public Records Office Victoria. OVIC will continue to work with other integrity agencies in the coming financial year to share relevant intelligence, monitor impacts on information rights and identify issues of significant non-compliance with our legislation.

All that OVIC has achieved this financial year is only possible due to the extraordinary dedication of our staff and senior leadership team. All OVIC team members have performed their roles with professionalism and impartiality, even when confronted with challenging circumstances.

All of us at OVIC look forward to responding to current and emerging challenges to information rights and we will continue to strongly advocate for reforms in access to information, privacy and information security so that these rights are further enabled and protected.

An applicant can apply to VCAT for a review of access charges imposed by a regulated entity if OVIC first certifies that the matter is of significant importance for VCAT to consider.

As there is no requirement for OVIC to be notified of the outcome of VCAT review applications relating to OVIC review decisions, we are not able to accurately report on VCAT outcomes. This has previously been highlighted by the Victorian Parliament's IOC, which recommended that the Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal Act 1998 (Vic) and other relevant legislation be amended to enable OVIC to obtain review application data held by VCAT. The recommendation still remains under consideration by the Victorian Government.

OVIC is aware of VCAT finalising reviews of 12 OVIC FOI decisions in 2025-2026. In 6 cases, OVIC's decisions were affirmed by VCAT and in 2 cases, OVIC's decisions were overturned or varied by VCAT[1]. The other cases were withdrawn or settled before VCAT hearing.

In 2025-2026, OVIC reported to the IOC under section 64A(1)(b)[2] of the FOI Act on 1 occasion in relation to VCAT.

1 This does not include where cases went to VCAT on OVIC deemed refusal.

2 The Information Commissioner must complete such a report if there have been 4 or more successful applications to the Supreme Court or VCAT by regulated entities against OVIC decisions in a 12 month period.

Who are we

OVIC is established under section 6B of the FOI Act. OVIC is the primary integrity agency and source of independent advice to the community, the VPS and Victorian Government about how the VPS collects, uses and discloses information. OVIC's functions are set out in the FOI Act and the PDP Act.

Commissioners

OVIC is led by the Information Commissioner, assisted by the Privacy and Data Protection Deputy Commissioner and the Public Access Deputy Commissioner in achieving the objectives of the PDP and FOI Acts.

Public access

The Public Access team oversees the administration and promotion of the FOI Act and access to regulated entities' information by reviewing regulated entity FOI decisions, handling complaints and overseeing compliance with the Professional Standards. The team also provides advice, education and guidance to regulated entities and the public.

Information privacy

The Privacy Guidance and Dispute Resolution team conciliates privacy complaints between individuals and relevant regulated entities where possible, publishes guidance materials and resources on the proper administration of the PDP Act and engages with regulated entities to provide tailored guidance to encourage best practice.

Information security

The Information Security team oversees the development and implementation of the VPDSS by regulated entities subject to Parts 4 and 5 of the PDP Act. It also promotes responsible information security practices and oversees a regime for monitoring and assuring public sector data security in relevant regulated entities.

Investigations

The Investigations team carries out a range of assurance and enforcement activities across information privacy, information security and public access. The actions carried out include preliminary enquiries, investigations, audits and monitoring compliance with OVIC recommendations.

Policy

The Policy team assists the Information Commissioner in achieving OVIC's strategic objectives by consulting with regulated entities on new programs and legislation, hosting educational events, making submissions to parliamentary inquiries and public consultations and producing guidance and resources for the public and regulated entities.

What we do

Functions under the FOI Act

Functions under the PDP Act

- Promote awareness and understanding of the IPPs.
- Receive and endeavour to conciliate complaints about possible breaches of the IPPs by regulated entities.
- Conduct audits to assess compliance with the IPPs and conduct investigations to determine whether to issue a compliance notice.
- Develop the Victorian protective data security framework and issue the VPDSS.
- Conduct monitoring and assurance activities to assess compliance with the VPDSS.
- Undertake research and issue reports, guidelines and other materials regarding the IPPs and information security.
- Make public interest determinations and temporary public interest determinations.

Strategic plan

At the commencement of the 2025-2026 financial year, OVIC developed plans to implement actions in support of achieving the priorities of its strategic plan.

For the 2025-2026 financial year, 101 actions were to be completed. As of the end of the financial year, 65 actions have been implemented with a number of these being converted to ongoing activities to be carried out by the relevant business units. A further 26 actions have progressed with the intention of being implemented in the 2026-2027 financial year. Seven of the actions were not commenced due to a variety of reasons including resourcing priorities, dependency on external supporting actions and changes in the work program priorities. The identified initiatives focused on, amongst other things, improving stakeholder management, refining OVIC's educational approach and delivery, consideration of the application of technological improvements to further improve service provision and enhancing OVIC's work environment.

Our staff

Gender Equality Action Plan

In line with the requirements under the Gender Equality Act 2020, OVIC developed its first Gender Equality Action Plan in 2021-2022 and completed a progress report that covers the actions and achievements outlined in the Gender Equality Action Plan at 30 June 2023.

While OVIC no longer meets the threshold to require a Gender Equality Action Plan or submit progress reports, OVIC remains committed to achieving the goals set out in its current Gender Equality Action Plan and continues to foster a safe workplace environment for all employees.

Staff development and support

In 2025-2026, OVIC delivered Mental Health First Aid training for all employees with all managers completing a Future Leaders program.

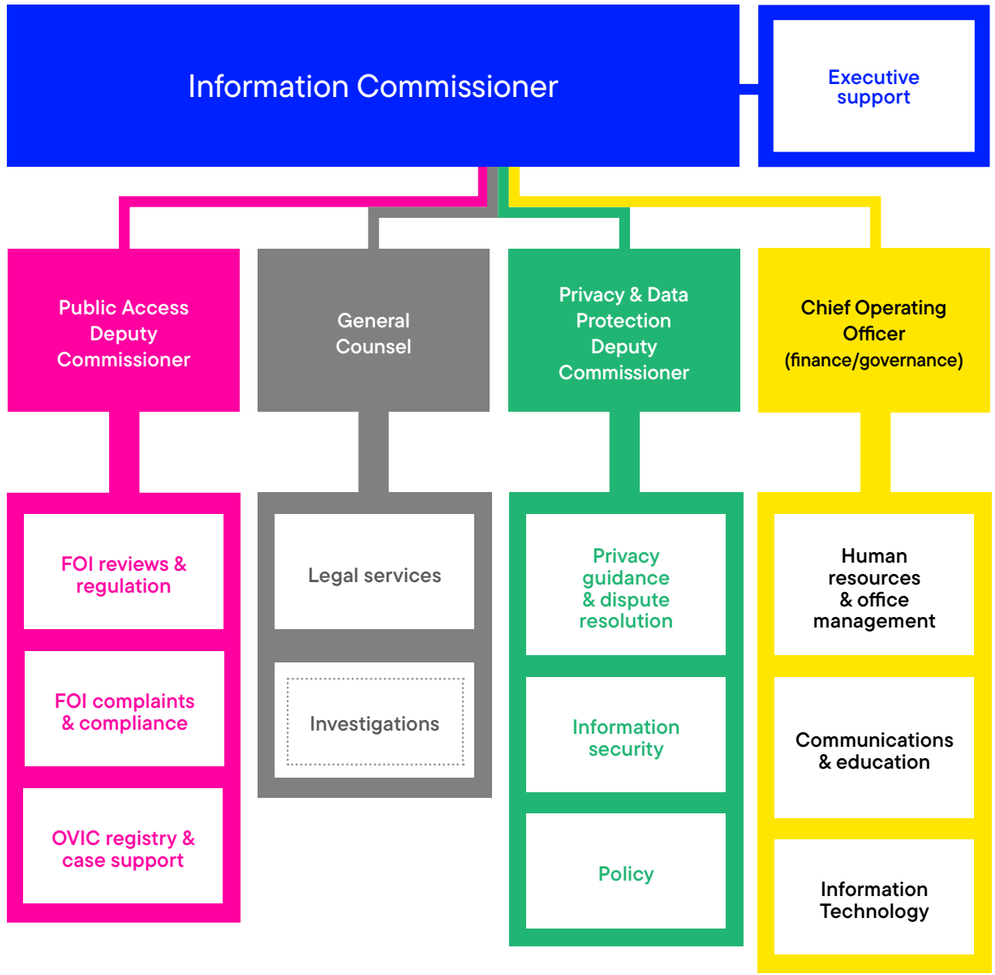

People matter survey

The OVIC leadership team promoted the benefits of staff participating in its annual People matter survey, with around 60% of OVIC staff completing the survey this financial year. Whilst this is lower than last years' participation, this reflects a similar trend across the broader VPS. Those staff who completed the survey agreed that there is good communication around psychological safety issues at OVIC, being 15% higher than in 2025.[3] OVIC saw the most improvement in staff perceptions of leadership, communication and psychological safety and continues to score highly in areas reflecting public sector values, including human rights and impartiality.

The People matter survey highlighted opportunities for improvement around the key themes of communication, learning and development, role clarity and confidence in addressing improper conduct. These areas will inform ongoing improvement initiatives with a focus on practical actions such as the development of a capability framework and refreshed position descriptions.

3 People matter survey question was "At work, there is good communication about psychological safety issues that affect me"

Governance

OVIC reviewed its governance arrangements in 2025-2026 and has disbanded its Corporate Governance Committee. This committee will be replaced with an internal Audit and Risk Committee in the next financial year.

The Information Commissioner was advised on business practices, legislative and corporate governance issues by the Corporate Governance Committee and the Chief Operating Officer across the 2025-2026 financial year. OVIC reviewed its strategic risk register, continued monitoring OVIC's Security Risk Profile and completing internal assurance reviews.

OVIC is also accountable to the IOC. The IOC is responsible for monitoring and reviewing OVIC's performance and can:

- examine OVIC's reports, including annual reports
- report to Parliament in relation to OVIC's performance of its duties and functions
- undertake inquiries into issues related to the work of OVIC and make recommendations for improvement.

IOC reports concerning OVIC's performance can be found at https://www.parliament.vic.gov.au/ioc

Shared services

In 2025-2026, a range of corporate support services were provided by the Department of Government Services, the Department of Premier and Cabinet, the Department of Treasury and Finance, the Department of Justice and Community Safety and the Department of Education in human resources, facilities management and financial management.

Occupational health and safety

OVIC aims to provide employees with a healthy and safe workplace. No time was lost in 2025-2026 due to workplace injuries. OVIC's hybrid working model continued in 2025-2026.

The Occupational Health and Safety (Psychological Health) Regulations 2025 commenced in Victoria on 1 December 2025. These standalone regulations sit alongside the Occupational Health and Safety Act 2004 to create new obligations for workplaces across Victoria to protect employees from psychological injury.

OVIC undertook risk assessments in relation to psychosocial hazards identified by evaluating separation rates and turnover, employee engagement and morale, incident reports and data trends. OVIC then consulted with staff to develop psychosocial prevention plans in compliance with the psychosocial regulations.

Employment and conduct principles

OVIC is committed to applying merit and equity principles when appointing staff. The selection processes ensure applicants are assessed and evaluated fairly and equitably on the basis of the key selection criteria and other accountabilities without discrimination. Employees have been correctly classified in workforce data collections.

Workplace relations

No industrial relations issues were registered, or grievances received in 2025-2026.

Public sector conduct

OVIC staff uphold the Code of Conduct for Victorian Public Sector Employees of Special Bodies. No breaches of the Code of Conduct by staff were identified in 2025-2026.

Environmental impacts

Nil reports.

Procurement including emergency procurement

Nil procurement complaints and nil emergency procurement in 2025-2026.

Social procurement

OVIC's social procurement strategy adopted the following Social Procurement Framework objectives:

- opportunities for Victorian Aboriginal people
- opportunities for Victorians with disability
- women's equality and safety
- supporting safe and fair workplaces and
- sustainable Victorian social enterprises and Aboriginal business sectors.

The objectives and the value of potential suppliers' commitment to them are included in OVIC's documentation relating to requests for a quote to supply. OVIC has incorporated social procurement requirements in its standard form service contracts. While it considers whether to include these each time it enters into an agreement with a service provider, it cannot always do so due to the limited ability of the service provider to comply or because the limited scope of the services would not make it feasible to require this.

OVIC staff seeking to obtain quotes or source supplies are advised of the high priority of OVIC's Social Procurement Framework objectives and how to identify appropriate social benefit suppliers on the Vendor Panel. Staff are also advised on the possibility of working with OVIC's legal team to seek commitments from suppliers to support OVIC's Social Procurement Framework objectives.

The Convention provides students in years 9 and 10 with the opportunity to learn about Australia's systems of government by participating in informed, parliamentary-style debates. Across the day, students debated the topic "Should governments regulate the use of facial recognition technology?". OVIC delivered a keynote presentation to the students, exploring the benefits and harms of facial recognition technology within democratic societies and how current laws operate to regulate its use. In the final vote, students voted 67 Yes and 1 No in favour of regulating facial recognition technology.

Ideal state of FOI in Victoria

In October 2025, OVIC delivered an information access series webinar on the ideal state of Freedom of Information in Victoria. This event discussed:

- the ways the current FOI Act is not fit for purpose
- key features of a modern access to information framework, as recommended by the IOC.

Information Access Series webinars

OVIC regularly provides lunchtime Information Access Series webinars for FOI practitioners on various topics relating to access to information under the FOI Act or outside the Act. These webinars are also recorded and made available on demand via the OVIC website. This year OVIC presented 3 webinars, attended by 243 participants across all 3 events.

OVIC also published and promoted resources for regulated entities and the community, including resources on making smart choices when sending emails and using AI, an animated video on the use of generative AI, tips for the public when using generative AI and key messages and privacy tips for privacy officers to promote within their organisations. Over the campaign, the daily tips, posters and artwork resources were downloaded 1,027 times.

Education evaluation strategy

In 2025, OVIC developed an education evaluation strategy to assess the impact of its resources and training offerings. This strategy provides an ongoing opportunity to assess and improve education and engagement activities in line with OVIC's legislative requirements.

The strategy looks at trends in access across resources, enquiries and webpages, the accessibility of the available content, attendance and satisfaction of events and training sessions, and direct feedback from stakeholders during events and engagement activities.

A review of the 2025-2026 year is currently underway to provide a baseline against which OVIC can measure educative impact and adjust offerings in line with regulated entity trends over the 2026-2027 financial year.

Victorian Law Week

Victorian Law Week is an initiative led by the Victorian Law Foundation, aimed at encouraging members of the public to better understand and engage with their legal rights, address everyday legal problems and find trusted information and support.

To mark Data Privacy Day, OVIC ran a social media campaign sharing privacy tips and promoting the privacy and AI resources available on OVIC's website.

Guidance & publications

The importance of good recordkeeping for enabling access to information

In September 2025, OVIC published a joint statement with the Public Record Office Victoria about the critical interaction between records management and FOI. The statement acknowledges that access to information cannot occur without full, accurate and reliable records, managed and stored for the minimum retention period. The statement recommends key actions for regulated entities to improve records management and timely access to information.

What to know before relying on AI

In March 2026, OVIC published guidance for the public on using AI tools to communicate with government organisations. The guidance provides:

- education on how to use AI tools safely and effectively
- tips to protect personal information and ensure accuracy of content.

Updates to FOI resources

In April 2026, OVIC updated its resource on proactive and informal release for local government. These updates focused on plain language and readability.

Deidentified review decisions

OVIC publishes a sample of deidentified decisions made under the FOI Act to its website and the Australasian Legal Information Institute (also known as AustLII) website. Publication of decisions assists regulated entities to make decisions about similar documents and members of the public to understand potential outcomes of our reviews. As of 30 June 2026, there are 1,029 reviews published on our website.

Updates to privacy resources

In June 2026 OVIC updated its resources on using generative AI tools. The updates clarify OVIC's position on the use of generative AI in government decision-making processes.

In June 2026 OVIC updated chapter 6 of the IPP Guidelines to clarify the complaint pathway under IPP 6.

VPDSS 2.0 Implementation Guidance version 2.4

OVIC released version 2.4 of the VPDSS Implementation Guidance, updating the primary sources for currency in line with the requirements under Part 4 of the PDP Act.

Information Security Incident Insights reports

OVIC published 2 Information Security Incident Insights reports. These reports provide an overview and analysis of incident notifications received by OVIC under the Information Security Incident Notification Scheme.

These reports cover key areas captured in incident notifications, including:

- information affected and format
- security attributes and control areas
- threat actors and threat types.

Regulated entities are encouraged to use the insights within these reports to inform their own information security risk assessments.

OVIC is currently reviewing the Information Security Incident reporting Framework so that it is fully aligned with OVIC's requirements under the PDP Act.

Information security risk statement library

In conjunction with the release of these Information Security Incident Insight reports, OVIC also publishes a library of updated information security risk statements, informed by data reported to OVIC under the Information Security Incident Notification Scheme. These updated statements are designed to enable organisations to make more informed risk-based decisions and assist with the identification of emerging risks evident from the incident engagement reporting.

Significant change guidance and form

OVIC updated and republished the significant change form and accompanying guidance to be used by regulated entities that are expected to, or have undergone, a significant change to operating environment or security risks.

Part 4 of the PDP Act self-assessment tool

OVIC developed and published a resource to help regulated entities conduct their own assessment on whether they are subject to Part 4 of the PDP Act. OVIC receives a high volume of enquiries relating to these matters, and this tool aims to minimise OVIC involvement in these assessments, leading to more efficient and effective use of resources.

Local Government Authorities – Information Security considerations

OVIC refreshed and republished a resource clarifying the reporting expectations under Part 4 for Local Government Authorities where an LGA undertakes a function or activity of a regulated entity (e.g. Committee of Management of Crown Land Reserves or Class B Cemetery Trust).

Under these particular arrangements, LGAs must abide by the conditions of Part 4 (including undertaking a Security Risk Profile Assessment and submitting a PDSP) incurred by the regulated entity.

2026 Part 4 of the PDP Act reporting guidance and templates

As part of OVIC's role in overseeing PDSP submissions, OVIC produced and updated a number of guidance and template documents to reflect updates made to the 2026 PDSP template, clarify OVIC's expectations of organisations' reporting and proactively address common questions identified in prior reporting cycles. These include:

- PDSP templates for Victorian Public Service entities
- PDSP How-to guide for Victorian Public Service entities
- PDSP templates for Class B Cemetery Trusts and Committees of Management
- PDSP How-to guide for Class B Cemetery Trusts and Committees of Management
- Information Asset Register template for Class B Cemetery Trusts and Committees of Management.

Consultations

Regulated entities consult OVIC on initiatives and reforms that intersect with privacy, information security and FOI. Consultations involve providing guidance and feedback on proposed legislative reform and major government projects, programs, policies and guidance that impact the Victorian community. Consulting with OVIC assists regulated entities to develop appropriate policy and legislative outcomes that meet the objects of the FOI Act and PDP Act.

In the 2025-2026 financial year, OVIC was involved in 99 consultations with regulated entities across OVIC's privacy, FOI and information security units.

Some of the themes raised in consultations with OVIC include proposed legislative reforms, AI, biometrics and information sharing. Sectors represented in the consultations include departments, statutory authorities, local councils and contracted service providers.

During the reporting period OVIC refined its approach to engaging with regulated entities on general information privacy, information security and FOI queries. For general queries, OVIC is encouraging regulated entities to refer to the educational resources and guidance available on OVIC's website. This reflects an expectation from OVIC that regulated entities possess the knowledge and capability to comply with their obligations under the PDP Act and FOI Act.

This approach will continue to promote awareness and responsible practices among our regulated entities. Additionally, OVIC will complement these efforts with a compliance and enforcement model of regulatory action.

This integrated approach combines educational guidance and proportionate risk based regulatory action to support and drive compliance.

Annual FOI survey

Each year, OVIC conducts the annual FOI survey as required under the FOI Act. This involves collecting data from regulated entities subject to the FOI Act on the administration and operation of that Act. The results of this survey are reported in sections 5 and 6 of this publication.

Parliamentary Inquiry recommendations

On 18 November 2025 the Public Accounts and Estimates Committee released the final report of its inquiry into fraud and corruption in local government. The Committee recommended that the Victorian Government seek to amend the PDP Act to include LGAs in Part 4, so that they are required and supported to implement consistent information security controls. The Committee's recommendation is under review by the government. OVIC supports this recommendation.

On 4 December 2025 the IOC released the final report of its inquiry into the adequacy of the legislative framework for IBAC. The IOC did not recommend any changes to IBAC's legislative requirements relating to information security. The IOC quoted from OVIC's submission, which recommended that Part 4 of the PDP Act should continue to be the primary avenue for public sector information and information systems to be protected.

Submissions

Formal submissions by OVIC provide an opportunity to advocate for stronger privacy, information security and access to information rights for the Victorian community. In 2025-2026, OVIC made 4 submissions to public consultations and parliamentary inquiries. OVIC's submissions are published on the OVIC website.

During 2025-2026 OVIC made submissions to the:

Investigations

In the 2025-2026 financial year, OVIC commenced regulatory action, including formal investigations, into new and emerging technologies. These actions included examining surveillance technologies, facial recognition technologies and AI. OVIC has also been conducting investigations into the access of personal information by regulated entity staff, including in the law enforcement sector.

Investigation into the use of surveillance by the University of Melbourne

In August 2025, the Information Commissioner published a report on the Deputy Commissioner's investigation into the use of surveillance by the University of Melbourne, which was conducted under section 8C(2)(e) of the PDP Act.

The University had identified individuals who participated in a sit-in protest at its Parkville campus using CCTV footage and Wi-Fi location data and used that information in misconduct investigations.

The Deputy Commissioner found that the University contravened IPPs 1.3 and 2.1 in relation to the use of Wi-Fi data. Taking into account the number of individuals impacted and the level of impact on these individuals, the Deputy Commissioner determined that the contraventions were 'serious'.

While the Deputy Commissioner found the contraventions to be 'serious', she decided that it was not necessary to issue a compliance notice to the University. This was because the University had already undertaken actions that would satisfy the requirements of any potential compliance notice. These included:

- developing a surveillance policy and associated procedures
- amending relevant information and communications technology policies
- enhancing its notices of collection.

Preliminary inquiries

This year, OVIC has continued to make significant use of preliminary inquiries as a regulatory tool, regularly using these to work with regulated entities to bring about change and improvements to ensure compliance without the need to resort to more formal action.

Preliminary inquiries addressing email errors

Email errors are some of the most common privacy breaches reported to OVIC. They include emails being sent to the wrong recipient, or incorrect attachments being included in emails. Email errors can severely impact individuals, constitute a breach of law and adversely affect an organisation's reputation.

In 2025–2026, OVIC conducted preliminary inquiries into one regulated entity that was experiencing a persistently high number of emailing errors involving personal, health or sensitive information over consecutive years.

In seeking to address its high rate of emailing errors, this organisation first set out to understand the causes of these errors. It found that common causes of emailing errors included:

- employees having multiple case files open at the same time, resulting in copy and paste errors
- employees using email addresses from personal address books rather than obtaining the email address from the main database, which is considered the 'single source of truth' for contact details
- employees using auto-population of email addresses without checking addresses on the main database and without checking the address bar before sending the email
- legacy data and inaccurate information contained in the source database, often stemming from employees' failure to update the database when a change of details is provided to them, or employees making transcription errors when entering or changing details in the database.

In terms of incorrect attachments sent with emails, this could be attributed to manual workflows, whereby documents are downloaded from one system, saved to an employee's desktop then attached to an email.

To better understand the root causes of the emailing errors, this organisation categorised them into 6 key themes:

- policy or process errors
- employee training and confidence
- people and resourcing gaps
- systems and process design
- technology
- leadership.

Having a thorough understanding of these themes meant that they were able to identify and implement a range of targeted actions to help reduce the number of emailing errors.

As a result of preliminary inquiries, this organisation is reporting email error statistics to OVIC on a quarterly basis, along with the status of actions being taken to reduce these errors.

Privacy breaches associated with a failed migration to a new billing and payment system

Greater Western Water launched a new billing and payment system named CustomerPlace.

This was designed to replace the billing systems from its 2 precursor organisations, City West Water and Western Water. Greater Western Water noted that the 2 previous systems – Aquarate and Gentrack – were old and did not offer features that customers expect from a water company.

The main privacy concerns related to personal information being disclosed to unauthorised third parties by the new system due to issues such as bills being delivered to the wrong address, or addressed to the wrong person. The Privacy and Data Protection Deputy Commissioner found these data breaches to be both serious and repeated (with over 320 breaches reported to OVIC).

Where a bill is sent to an unauthorised third party, this may reveal information such as names and addresses, as well as account information, billing details, and property holdings. This carries a risk of harm to affected customers, particularly where a new address is revealed to a known individual to whom they did not wish to reveal such information, such as a perpetrator of family violence or estranged family member.

The Deputy Commissioner's preliminary inquiries identified significant shortcomings in Greater Western Water's preparations for moving to its new billing and payment system.

Broadly, Greater Western Water's data integration project was flawed in terms of the quality of the data in CustomerPlace, weaknesses in database test processes, and the data governance arrangements, including risk assessment processes.

This case demonstrates that data migration, particularly data integration, is usually a complex and intricate undertaking. Where there are gaps in the planning and execution of migrating data to a new system, the privacy impacts can be significant, widespread, and difficult to remediate.

Compliance monitoring

Mechanisms permitting departure from the IPPs

In August 2024, the Information Commissioner made a public interest determination under section 31(1) of the PDP Act. The determination applies to the Department of Justice and Community Safety and Department of Families, Fairness and Housing, in relation to the Stolen Generations Reparations Package.

The public interest determination permits the Department of Families, Fairness and Housing to depart from IPP 2.1 when sharing certain third-party information with eligible applicants under the Stolen Generations Reparations Package. The Information Commissioner determined that the public interest in providing the information substantially outweighed the public interest in the Department of Families, Fairness and Housing complying with IPP 2.1.

The public interest determination remains in effect until March 2028.

Public interest determinations with a duration longer than 12 months are subject to reporting and review requirements under section 36 of the PDP Act.

In August 2025, the departments submitted an annual report on the operation of the public interest determination. In October 2025, the Information Commissioner reviewed the public interest determination and decided not to revoke or amend it. The public interest determination continues to remain in effect until March 2028.

The departments are required to report again in August 2026.

Legislative reporting to the Information Commissioner

Service Victoria

Section 53(1) of the Service Victoria Act 2018 requires the Chief Executive Officer of Service Victoria to report annually to the Information Commissioner on the operation of Service Victoria in relation to personal information. In December 2025, OVIC received reports for the 2023-2024 and 2024-2025 reporting periods. OVIC did not identify any issues requiring further regulatory action.

Chief Data Officer

Section 29 of the Victorian Data Sharing Act 2017 requires the Chief Data Officer to report annually to the Information Commissioner on the operation of the Chief Data Officer's functions, powers and duties in relation to personal information.

OVIC received a report for the 2023-2024 reporting period in May 2025 and reports for the 2024-2025 and 2025-2026 reporting periods in September 2026. OVIC did not identify any issues requiring regulatory action.

FOI compliance with section 21

In 2025-2026, OVIC monitored compliance with section 21 of the FOI Act. Section 21 of the FOI Act provides that a regulated entity or minister must notify an applicant of its decision as soon as practicable and no later than 30 days after the day a valid request is received (unless the request is subject to an extension of time).

In 2025-2026, OVIC recorded 409 breaches of section 21 of the FOI Act with respect to delayed decision making under the FOI Act regarding 47 regulated entities.

The Public Access Deputy Commissioner made formal findings against 8 regulated entities for failing to comply with their statutory obligations under section 21 of the FOI Act. The Deputy Commissioner provided each regulated entity with an opportunity to respond to the findings.

The Deputy Commissioner's findings and the responses received from each relevant regulated entity are reported below.

Monitoring of these regulated entities' compliance with their obligations under the FOI Act and the Professional Standards is ongoing.

Victoria Police

Deputy Commissioner's finding

Based on complaint applications closed between 1 July 2025 and 30 June 2026, Victoria Police failed to comply with its statutory obligation under section 21 to provide applicants with a decision on their FOI requests within the statutory timeframe in 65 cases. In these cases, the average time taken for Victoria Police to provide a decision in response to a valid FOI request was 460 days.

Victoria Police's response

The main factors contributing to delays in FOI decision making were the combined impact of a 14% increase in the volume of requests received in 2025-2026 (compared to 2024-2025), an existing backlog of overdue requests, and the volume of FOI requests received by Victoria Police exceeding the capacity of current resource levels in the FOI Division.

Victoria Police undertook several actions to improve the timely collection, assessment and release of information, including:

- consulting with applicants to inform the prioritisation of requests
- consulting with applicants to refine the scope of their request to improve response times, while still meeting their information needs, enabling a higher number of requests to be completed
- utilising resources from other areas to support the FOI function
- reviewing the pre-assessment section to improve efficiency
- implementing the recommendations of an internal audit to improve efficiency.

Department of Families, Fairness and Housing

Deputy Commissioner's finding

Based on complaint applications closed between 1 July 2025 and 30 June 2026, the Department of Families, Fairness and Housing failed to comply with its statutory obligation under section 21 to provide applicants with a decision on their FOI requests within the statutory timeframe in 82 cases. In these cases, the average time taken for the Department to provide a decision in response to a valid FOI request was 286 days.

Department of Families, Fairness and Housing's response

The main factors contributing to delays in FOI decision making were due to a 22% increase in the volume of all FOI applications received between 2024-2025 and 2025-2026, and an increase in the complexity of requests. Further, the Department notes an approximate 42% increase in the number of valid requests received in 2025-2026 when compared to five years ago (2021-2022).

The Department undertook several actions to improve its compliance, including:

- streamlining processes and introducing initiatives to improve performance, timeliness and engagement with applicants
- internal structural changes to shift resources to optimise decision making
- increasing administrative document releases where possible to facilitate more timely access.

Department of Health

Deputy Commissioner's finding

Based on complaint applications closed between 1 July 2025 and 30 June 2026, the Department of Health failed to comply with its statutory obligation under section 21 to provide applicants with a decision on their FOI requests within the statutory timeframe in 6 cases. In these cases, the average time taken for the Department to provide a decision in response to a valid FOI request was 310 days.

Department of Health's response

The Department is committed to continually strengthening its FOI function and improving access outcomes for applicants.

During the reporting period, the Department experienced increased demand and received multiple complex requests that required extensive consultation and review. In response, the Department has implemented a range of initiatives to increase capacity, enhance efficiency, and support timely decision making. These initiatives include the recruitment of several additional resources, as well as implementing more efficient ways of working, strengthening triage and workflow management practices and reviewing FOI processes and procedures to identify opportunities for further improvement.

Collectively, these measures facilitate the Department's timely response to requests, reduce aged matters, and strengthen compliance with its obligations under the FOI Act. The Department remains committed to continuous improvement and delivering a responsive, applicant-focused FOI service.

Department of Justice and Community Safety

Deputy Commissioner's finding

Based on complaint applications closed between 1 July 2025 and 30 June 2026, the Department of Justice and Community Safety failed to comply with its statutory obligation under section 21 to provide applicants with a decision on their FOI requests within the statutory timeframe in 38 cases. In these cases, the average time taken for the Department to provide a decision in response to a valid FOI request was 185 days.

Department of Justice and Community Safety's response

The Department is committed to handling FOI requests in accordance with timeliness provisions set out in both section 21 of the FOI Act and OVIC's Professional Standards.

The Department acknowledges OVIC's finding in relation to 38 cases where the statutory timeframe under section 21 of the FOI Act was not met. However, this should be considered in the context of a 15% increase in FOI request volumes and a substantial improvement in timeliness performance, with the proportion of decisions made within statutory timeframes increasing from 38.2% in 2024–2025 to 56.2% in 2025–2026.

This improvement reflects the Department's ongoing efforts to enhance timeliness, strengthen decision-making quality, and improve engagement with applicants. The Department remains committed to further improving its FOI performance across each of these areas.

Department of Transport and Planning

Deputy Commissioner's finding

Based on complaint applications closed between 1 July 2025 and 30 June 2026, the Department of Transport and Planning failed to comply with its statutory obligation under section 21 to provide applicants with a decision on their FOI requests within the statutory timeframe in 15 cases. In these cases, the average time taken for the Department to provide a decision in response to a valid FOI request was 175 days.

Department of Transport and Planning's response

Overall, the Department finalised nearly 2100 requests in 2025-2026, releasing documents in over 90%, and finalising over 86% or 1800 within the statutory time limit. The average time taken to finalise requests was 26 days. That result was achieved despite an 18% increase in the number of requests received over the year.

Extended delays over 100 days in response to FOI requests are unusual and represent less than 2% of requests. They tend to arise from increases in requests, extended consultation with third parties to avoid objections to release and from the need to obtain input from subject matter experts who have limited availability.

The Department's FOI Team actively consults the Professional Standards and has built them into its processes for responding to FOI requests. That includes clarification of unclear or overlarge requests to avoid delays, and streamlining of processes, as well as refinement of management systems and reporting to encourage meeting timelines.

Department of Energy, Environment, and Climate Action

Deputy Commissioner's finding

Based on complaint applications closed between 1 July 2025 and 30 June 2026, the Department of Energy, Environment and Climate Action failed to comply with its statutory obligation under section 21 to provide applicants with a decision on their FOI requests within the statutory timeframe in 10 cases. In these cases, the average time taken for the Department to provide a decision in response to a valid FOI request was 204 days.

Department of Energy, Environment and Climate Action's response

The main factors contributing to delays in FOI decision making were a sustained increase in the complexity of requests, the existence of a backlog and a large number of VCAT applications.

The Department of Energy, Environment and Climate Action undertook several actions to improve its compliance, including:

- allocating additional resources to its FOI function
- introducing initiatives to improve the quality of decisions
- undertaking a project to improve the FOI function's efficiency.

Department of Education

Deputy Commissioner's finding

Based on complaint applications closed between 1 July 2025 and 30 June 2026, the Department of Education failed to comply with its statutory obligation under section 21 to provide applicants with a decision on their FOI requests within the statutory timeframe in 45 cases. In these cases, the average time taken for the Department to provide a decision in response to a valid FOI request was 213 days.

Department of Education's response

The main factors contributing to delays in FOI decision making include an almost 50% increase in the volume of requests received over the last 2 financial years and the complexity of requests received.

The Department of Education has undertaken actions to improve compliance and timeliness, including engaging additional resourcing, introducing initiatives to improve performance, timeliness and the quality of engagement with applicants and decisions, and refining existing processes to support the timely collection, assessment and release of information.

Department of Treasury and Finance

Deputy Commissioner's finding

Based on complaint applications closed between 1 July 2025 and 30 June 2026, the Department of Treasury and Finance failed to comply with its statutory obligation under section 21 to provide applicants with a decision on their FOI requests within the statutory timeframe in 6 cases. In these cases, the average time taken for the Department to provide a decision in response to a valid FOI request was 308 days.

Department of Treasury and Finance's response

The complaints closed in 2025–2026 related to matters raised in 2023-2024 and 2024–2025. No complaints were received by OVIC concerning the Department in 2025–2026.

The complaints captured in this finding involved complex issues, which contributed to delays beyond the statutory timeframe.

During 2025–2026, the Department finalised 89 FOI requests, with 40 decisions made within time. Across all requests finalised in 2025-2026, the average processing time was 114 days.

Professional Standards

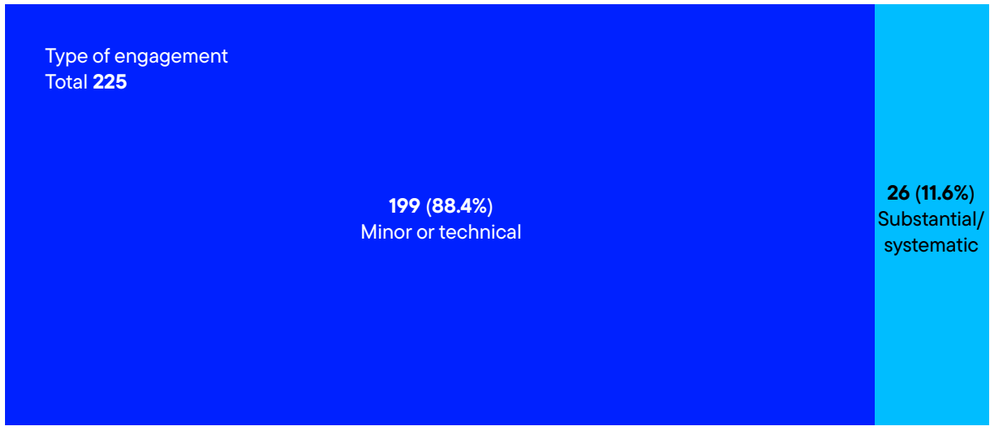

In 2025-2026, OVIC recorded a total of 225 engagements with the Professional Standards concerning 19 standards and 87 regulated entities. OVIC classifies breaches of the Professional Standards into 2 categories: minor or technical breaches, and substantial, persistent, or systemic breaches. OVIC focused its efforts on resolving instances of non-compliance through educational and informal action. This involved educating regulated entities about their obligations under the FOI Act and the Professional Standards and providing them with relevant resources, supporting materials and tailored guidance to avoid or reduce further non-compliance. OVIC staff regularly met with staff from regulated entities to discuss compliance with the Professional Standards and in some instances sought a written submission from the relevant entity. Other regulated entities were monitored for a specified time over the year.

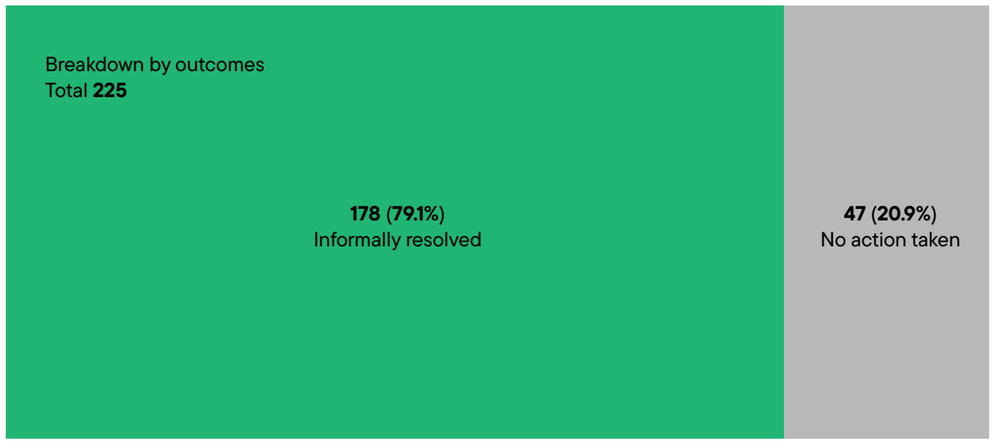

Overview of Professional Standards engagements and outcomes

Of the 225 Professional Standards engagements recorded in 2025-2026, 199 (88.4%) were minor breaches and 26 (11.6%) were substantial or systemic breaches of the Professional Standards.

OVIC uses a range of compliance and enforcement tools to address non-compliance of the Professional Standards. In 2025-2026, OVIC informally resolved 26 substantial breaches of the Professional Standards by engaging directly with the relevant regulated entity and providing opportunities to improve compliance. This included requiring the regulated entity to undertake certain actions, providing further support and guidance, and reminding the relevant regulated entities of their obligations under the Professional Standards.

One hundred and seventy eight (79.1%) Professional Standard engagements were resolved informally following OVIC intervention using educational strategies and no action was taken in respect of 47 (20.9%) engagements.

Information security

2025 VPDSS Attestations

Regulated entities are normally required to attest to the progress of their information security activities and program outlined in their prior PDSP submissions. However, in 2024 OVIC wrote to regulated entities to advise that VPDSS Attestations to OVIC were deferred, with a view to revise the VPDSS product suite.

For regulated entities that indicated they were undergoing or had undergone a significant change, an out-of-cycle PDSP submission to OVIC was still required in 2025-2026.

Protective Data Security Plan insights report

Following the 2024 PDSP reporting cycle, OVIC published its inaugural Victorian Public Sector Insights – Information Security Monitoring and Assurance report. The report aimed to promote the continuous improvement of information security programs at regulated entities and provide transparency on the data related to regulatory activities. The publication utilised data directly drawn from PDSPs submitted to OVIC by reporting entities between 2022 and 2024, information security incident notifications submitted to OVIC across the same timeframe, as well as 3 previous related audits that OVIC conducted.

In the past, OVIC would prepare PDSP insight reports tailored to each reporting entity, presenting organisation-specific statistics as well as general Whole of Victorian Government insights from the reporting cycle.

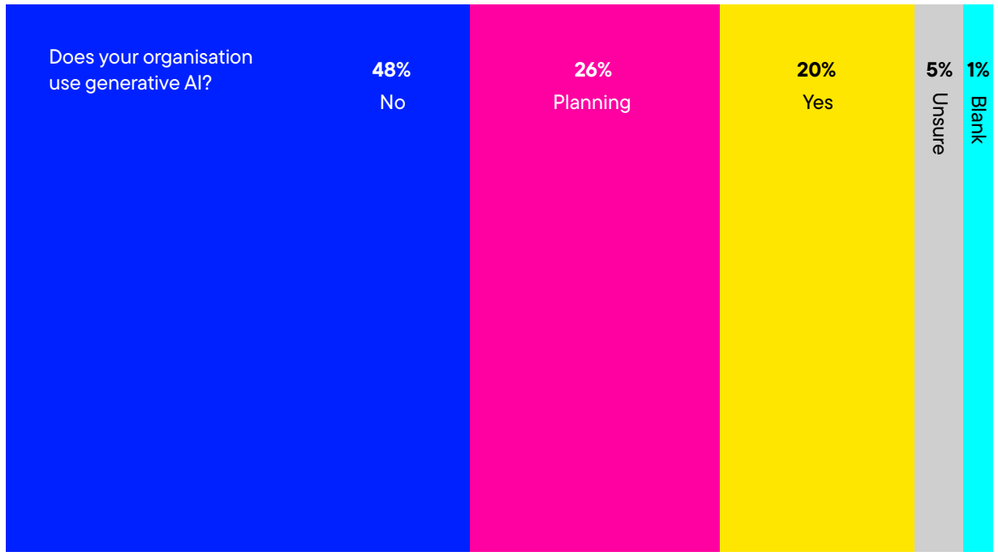

Insights presented in the report were based upon the self-assessed implementation of the VPDSS at each regulated entity as reflected in their PDSPs submitted to OVIC. The report presented data from 360 reporting entities that submitted a PDSP in 2024 and included a comparative analysis of 316 entities that submitted a PDSP in both 2022 and 2024.

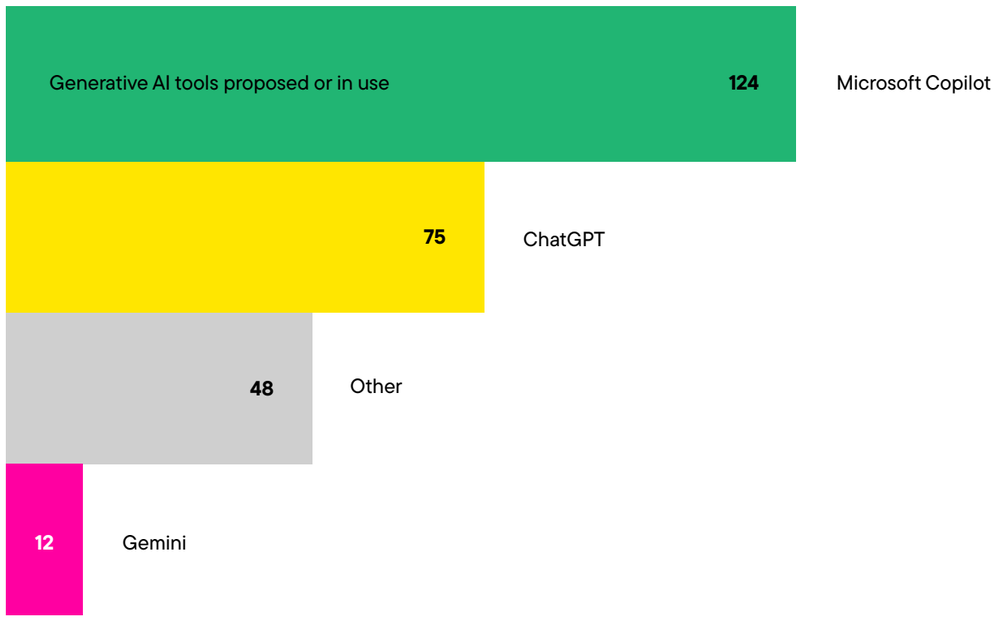

OVIC undertook a quantitative analysis of the 360 reporting entities' PDSPs and a subsequent qualitative analysis of data from a sample 50 selected entities. This sample was used as an indicative representation of the 360 reporting entities in 2024.

With the rise in the use of generative AI, OVIC sought to understand how regulated entities were using or planning to use this technology. The publication established that 48% of entities reported they were not using generative AI, with 5% noting that they were 'unsure' if it was being used, and 1% leaving this section unanswered. A further 20% of entities reported that they were currently using generative AI and a subsequent 26% stated they were 'planning' to implement the technology.

Of those entities that reported they were using or 'planning' to use generative AI, Microsoft Copilot was shown as the most used tool followed by ChatGPT. This higher adoption of Microsoft Copilot may be due to the functionality being rolled out for many existing customers across their Microsoft suite.

OVIC uses this information to inform its monitoring and assurance activities and to build relevant guidance for regulated entities.

Operation Turton

In 2024, IBAC published the Operation Turton special report which identified repeated instances of unauthorised access and disclosure of sensitive information by employees at the former Metropolitan Fire Brigade. The IBAC report set out recommendations for Fire Rescue Victoria, including those that address the information and communication technology security risks identified in Operation Turton. These included:

> 2b. engaging an appropriately qualified independent person to review information security infrastructure, policy and procedures to identify any remaining deficiencies against the Victorian Protective Data Security Standards and Framework or any other issues
>
> 2c. consulting with OVIC on the adequacy of its information security in line with the Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014 (Vic), including how it is addressing any shortfalls identified in the review recommended above. To support and inform this consultation, Fire Rescue Victoria must provide OVIC with the full final report of the independent person referred to in Recommendation 2(b).

Representatives from OVIC and Fire Rescue Victoria met across 2025 to discuss the recommendations and associated work and sought to promote an understanding of the VPDSS. These engagements continue in 2026, with OVIC addressing questions from the IOC in April 2026 regarding Fire Rescue Victoria's progress in relation to Recommendations 2(b) and 2(c). OVIC and the IBAC considered these recommendations to remain in progress in the 2025-2026 period, with continued work to be undertaken by FRV.

Victoria Police

The former Offices of the Commissioner for Law Enforcement Data Security and the Commissioner for Privacy and Data Protection conducted numerous reviews and site walkthroughs of Victoria Police, resulting in 271 recommendations being made to Victoria Police relating to information security practices.

Documentation provided by Victoria Police was subsequently reviewed by OVIC.

All outstanding legacy recommendations have now been closed, with the following recommendations closed in the 2025-2026 period:

- Recommendation 266 – Implemented
- Recommendation 181 – Implemented
- Recommendation 186 - Implemented
- Recommendation 217 - Not Implemented
- Recommendations 238 and 252 - Not Implemented

OVIC notes that Victoria Police is responsible for managing any ongoing risks associated with these matters. OVIC is managing monitoring and assurance activities of Victoria Police in accordance with its regulatory action policy, consistent with other regulated entities under Part 4 of the PDP Act.

Central service model project – Department of Education

OVIC continues to work with the Department of Education on a revised PDSP reporting model that aims to provide greater insight into the information risks and operating environments of their corporate units, schools and school councils. OVIC envisages this model will evolve, enabling the Department to meet its legislative obligations.

Information security incident notification scheme

The information security incident notification scheme has been developed to centrally coordinate notification of information security incidents. It should also be noted that reporting by regulated entities under the scheme is voluntary, making trend analysis somewhat subjective.

Information security incidents

In 2025-2026, OVIC received 925 incident notifications. This is a 15% decrease in the number of notifications received compared to the 2024-2025 financial year (1,094). Overall, 82% of notified incidents related to electronic information, 97% affected the confidentiality of information, and 93% affected personal information. Although there was a decrease in notifications received in the 2025-2026 period (925 down from 1,094 in 2024-2025), the percentages for:

- security attributes affected (confidentiality)
- information format (electronic)
- type of information compromised (personal)

are back to the same statistics seen in 2023-2024.

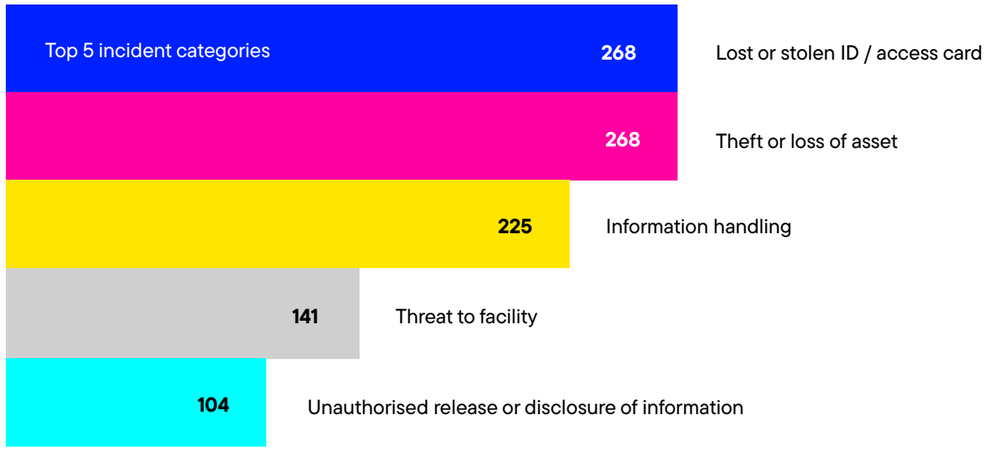

Victoria Police information security incident statistics

OVIC receives incident notifications from the Victoria Police Security Incident Registry team.

Incident reporting from Victoria Police over the last 5 financial years shows a common theme in the occurrence of certain categories.

Note: OVIC only reports on Victoria Police incidents that have a status of completed. OVIC does not report on incidents that are considered open, as some of these incidents are yet to be investigated and may not meet the criteria of an incident once concluded.

The following statistics are based on the number of completed incidents, meaning they were investigated by Victoria Police and confirmed as incidents with follow-up actions concluded.

Types of FOI requests

In the 2025-2026 financial year, personal requests (for information mainly relating to the applicant themselves) represented 73.1% of total requests received, while non-personal requests represented 26.9%.

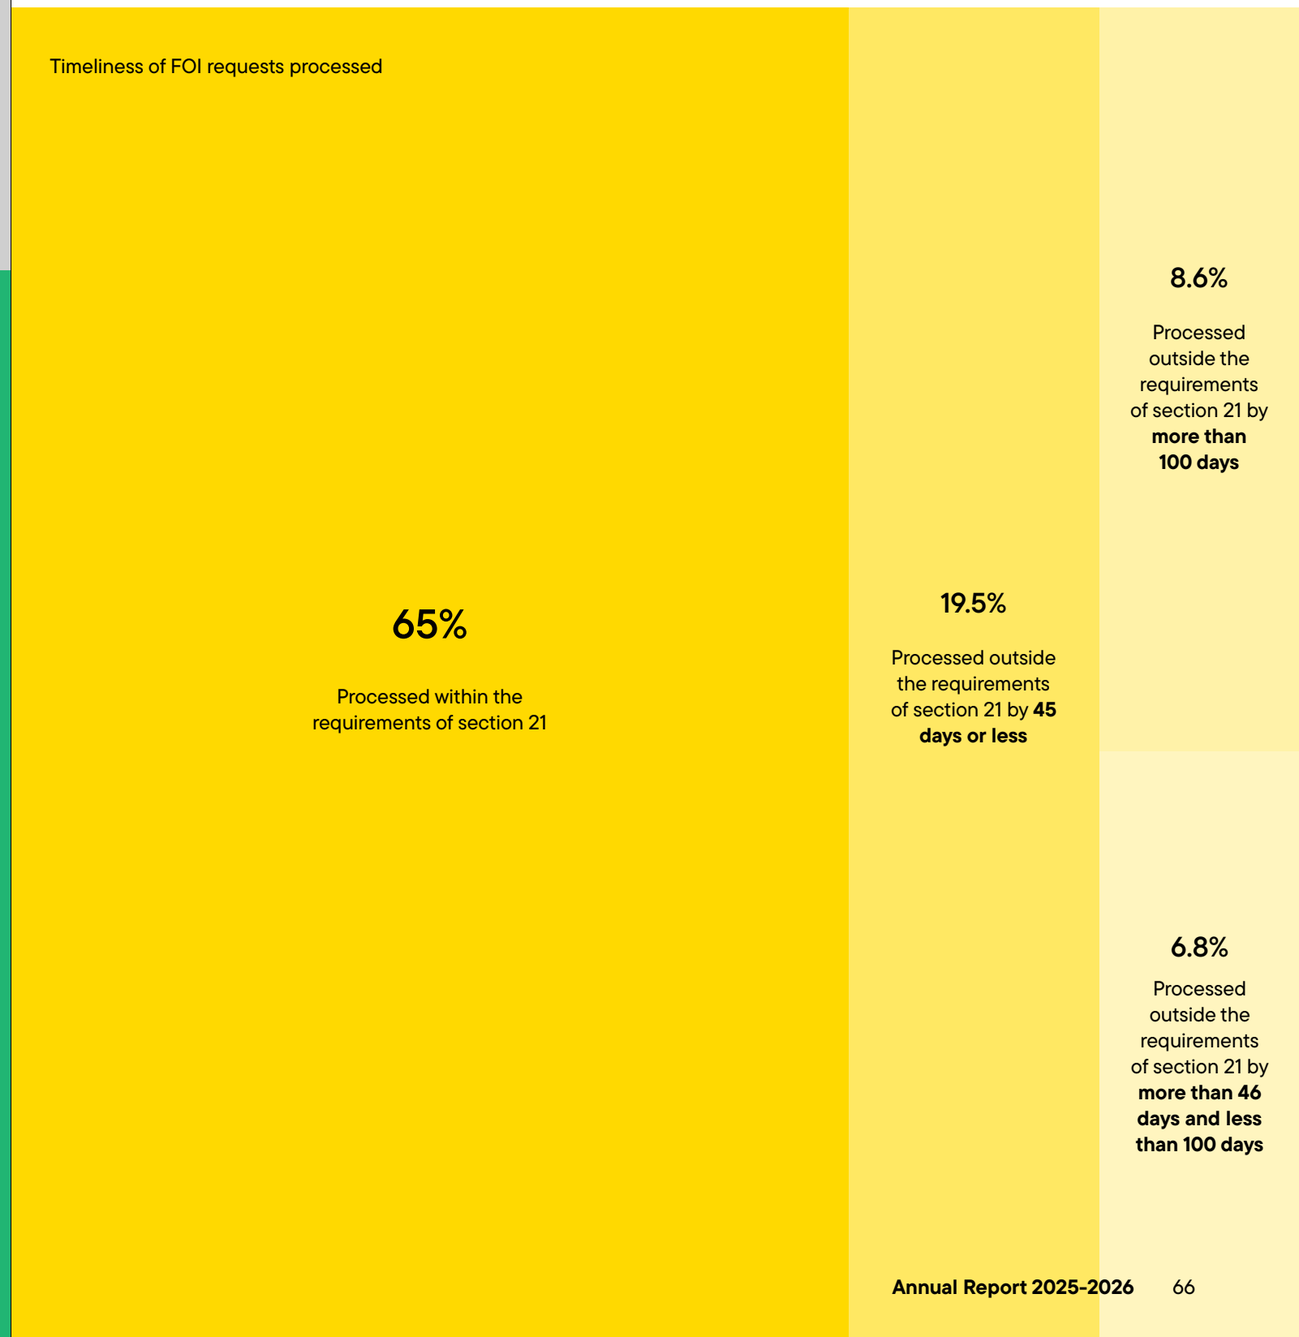

Timeliness of FOI requests processed

Section 21 of the FOI Act requires that the relevant regulated entity must notify an applicant of a decision on an FOI request within 30 days. However, this time may be extended in the below instances:

- an applicant may grant one or more extensions of up to 30 days at a time
- a single extension of up to 15 days is available
- if the regulated entity determines that consultation with third parties is required under sections 29, 29A, 31, 31A, 33, 34 or 35 of the FOI Act.

In the 2025-2026 financial year, regulated entities reported 65% of FOI requests were processed within the requirements of section 21. This is a reduction compared to the 2024-2025 financial year when 76.6% of requests were processed with the requirements of section 21.

Access decisions

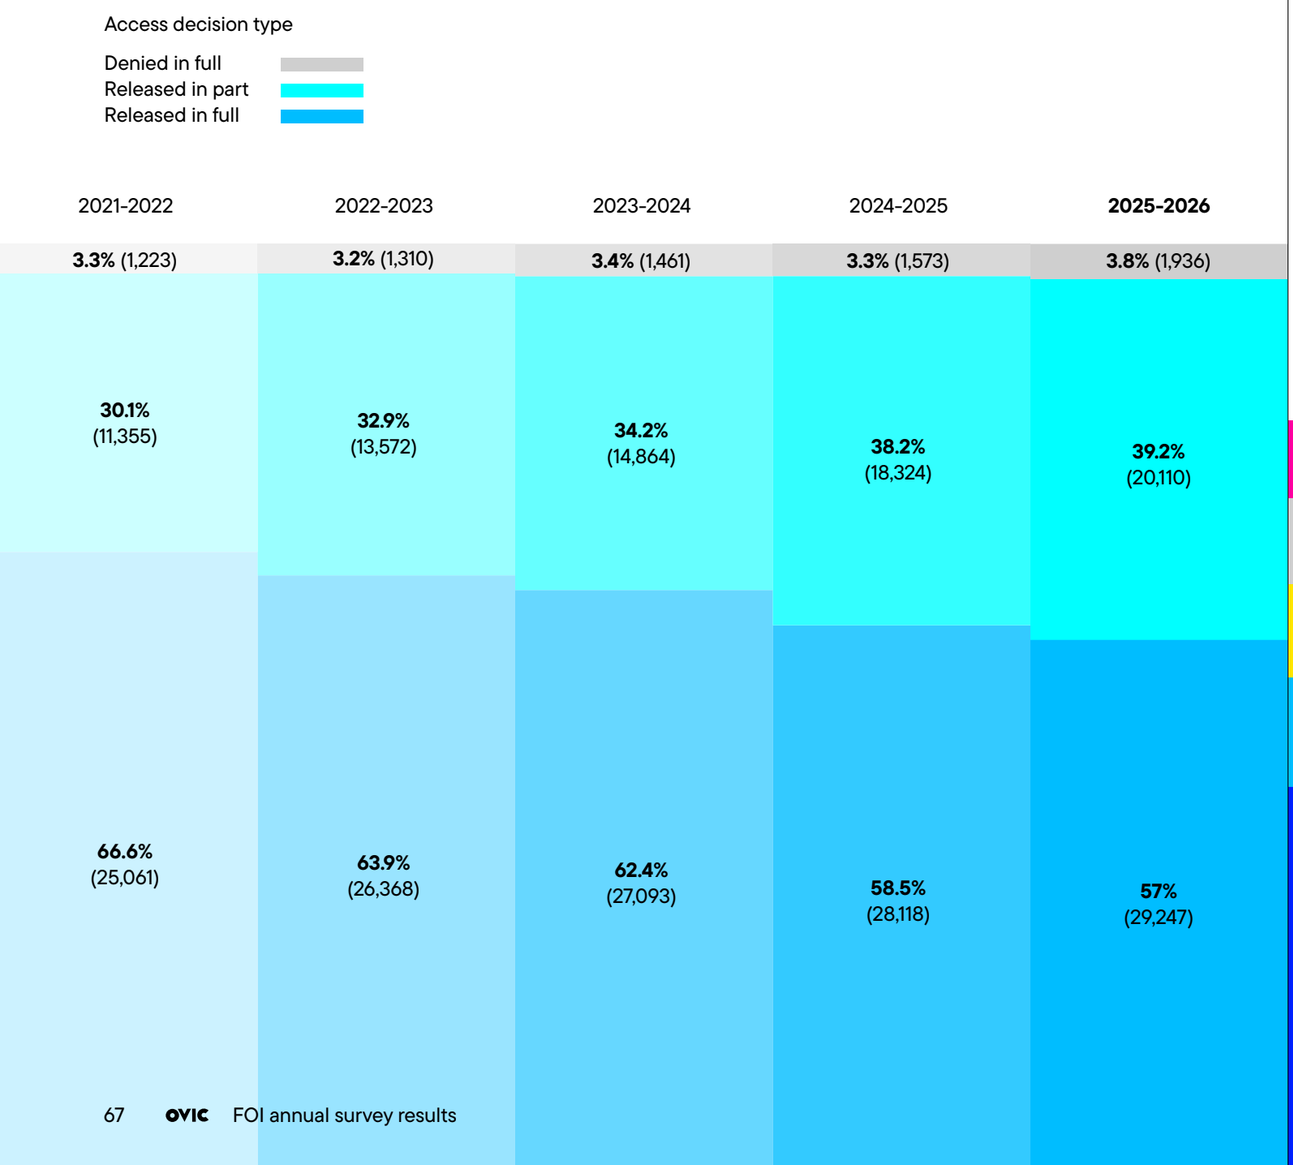

The information provided by regulated entities about their access decisions does not include situations where a request was received and one of the following applied:

- the applicant did not proceed with the request
- the request had not been decided at the end of the 2025-2026 reporting period
- the regulated entity did not hold the documents sought
- the regulated entity and the applicant agreed on a form of access outside of the FOI process.

In the 2025-2026 financial year, regulated entities reported making 51,293 FOI access decisions. This is a 6.8% increase compared to the volume of access decisions made in the 2024-2025 financial year.

Analysis of the historical data on access decisions reveals:

- a continued increase in the number of FOI decisions made with 36% more made in the 2025-2026 financial year than in the 2021-2022 financial year
- a continued yearly downward trend in the percentage of FOI decisions where access is granted in full from 66.6% in the 2021-2022 financial year to 57% in the 2025-2026 financial year. However, the number of decisions denied in full has only reduced slightly over the same time period.

Exemptions

In the 2025-2026 financial year, the 5 most frequently claimed grounds for exemption in FOI decisions were:

1. Section 33: documents affecting personal privacy (claimed in 16,898 decisions)
2. Section 38: documents where a secrecy or confidentiality provision of an Act other than the FOI Act applies (claimed in 3,746 decisions)
3. Section 35: information obtained in confidence (claimed in 3,690 decisions)
4. Section 31: law enforcement documents (claimed in 3,240 decisions)
5. Section 30: internal working documents where disclosure would be contrary to the public interest (claimed in 2,502 decisions)

All exemptions/provisions cited in 2025-2026 decisions

The 5 most frequently claimed grounds for exemption accounted for around 92% of exemptions cited.

Refer to Appendix C for full list of exemptions or provisions claimed by regulated entities in decisions made in 2025-2026.

VCAT appeals

Regulated entities reported that 233[5] appeals to VCAT were lodged in the 2025-2026 financial year and that 38 cases were decided by VCAT in 2025-2026. Of these decided cases, the decisions of a regulated entity were reported to have been:

- affirmed in full in 28 cases
- varied in 7 cases
- overturned in 3 cases.

Regulated entities reported that 129 appeals to VCAT were withdrawn in 2025-2026.

Refer to Appendix B for more information.[6]

Application fees and access charges

The application fee was $33.60 for the 2025-2026 financial year. Regulated entities reported application fee revenue of $1,590,154.90 for the 2025-2026 financial year. This is compared against $1,405,869.68 reported in the 2024-2025 financial year. The FOI Act provides that regulated entities may waive or reduce an application fee if the payment of the fee would cause hardship to the applicant. Regulated entities reported that the total amount in application fees waived in the 2025-2026 was $496,773.80.

Access charges are payable when a decision has been made to release documents in full or in part. Charges are for copying documents, providing access in alternative forms, supervision of access to documents, search costs and generating documents from electronic data.

When calculating access charges, regulated entities are required to consider the object of the FOI Act to promote access to documents at the lowest reasonable cost.

Charges must be waived where the applicant is impecunious and it is for personal documents. The FOI Act also provides for other circumstances where access charges are not payable.

In the 2025-2026 financial year, regulated entities collected $1,162,331.30 in access charges. The total amount in access charges waived was $173,029.59.

Refer to Appendix E for more information.

5 This data does not include applications to VCAT for review of a decision made by OVIC.

6 OVIC notes this data may vary from the actual data held by VCAT, as the source for the data in this report is the regulated entity not VCAT.

FOI administration

Disciplinary action taken in relation to the administration of the FOI Act

Regulated entities reported that no disciplinary action was taken in relation to the administration of the FOI Act in 2025-2026.

Notices issued under section 12 of the FOI Act

A person, under section 12 of the FOI Act, may serve a Principal Officer of a regulated entity (other than a council) a notice stating that, in the opinion of the person, a statement published by the Principal Officer does not specify a document which is required to be specified under the FOI Act. Regulated entities reported no section 12 notices were served in 2025-2026.

Difficulties in administrating the FOI Act

Increase in FOI requests received

There were 116 regulated entities that identified a significant increase in the number of FOI requests received in the 2025-2026 financial year.

Staffing and cost

The number of regulated entities advising of staffing or cost-related difficulties was reported as 40.1%, a significant increase from 12.8% last year. As in previous years, difficulties reported by regulated entities included:

- high workloads
- managing competing priorities
- in small regulated entities, not having a dedicated FOI resource
- meeting legislated timeframes with limited dedicated staff
- staff training
- staff turnover
- inability to recruit suitably skilled and knowledgeable FOI officers
- staff redeployment for emergencies
- charges for requests do not cover the costs
- staff stress from dealing with challenging applicants
- complex FOI requests made by applicants with trauma or mental health concerns
- the sensitive nature of documents can be a psychosocial hazard.

Use of AI by applicants

Thirty seven regulated entities raised the impact of applicants using AI to assist with FOI requests as a new issue in the 2025-2026 financial year.

In summary, regulated entities report that the rise in use of AI by applicants can cause:

- broad, unclear and/or long requests which are difficult to interpret and/or require additional clarification attempts
- misunderstanding of the FOI Act in force, including quoting of incorrect legislation, either by section or jurisdiction
- applicants to have incorrect information about timeframes resulting in dissatisfaction with the FOI process
- applicants to request metadata where it is not relevant to the request
- additional staff resources to be required to process requests due to the increased length and complexity.

Refer to page 37 for information on OVIC's resources on this issue.

Other challenges

Other factors impacting their ability to administer the FOI Act were reported by 23.6% of regulated entities (excluding cemetery trusts and nil returns), including:

- internal delays where FOI is not given priority by senior staff and subject-matter experts
- IT systems being outdated and difficult to retrieve information
- needing to search across multiple systems or locations
- information lost due to a cyber incident
- processing requests under an old Act that would not have anticipated technology developments and the increase in information
- volume and complexity of requests
- growing volume of electronically stored information
- increasing applicant expectations of the volume of historical records held
- difficult conduct of applicants, including multiple requests
- the 15-day timeframe for consultation being insufficient
- redacting exempt information being labour intensive and time consuming
- managing VCAT matters where the documents are dated and staff have departed since the decision was made
- applicants misunderstanding the FOI process.

Efforts made by regulated entities to implement the spirit and intention of the FOI Act

Approximately 47.5% of regulated entities (excluding cemetery trusts) provided details on their efforts to implement the spirit and intention of the FOI Act. These efforts included:

- releasing information outside of the FOI Act
- having a public transparency policy
- adopting an administrative release policy
- proactive release where a particular issue is important to the community
- publishing de-identified data
- improving records management
- manager and staff training
- regular reviews of policies and procedures
- community engagement practices that involve the circulation of draft strategies and plans
- publishing more information on websites, including policies and reports
- waiving fees and charges to facilitate the release of documents at the lowest reasonable cost
- actively consulting with applicants to better understand requests and to assist them in making valid FOI requests or accessing information outside the FOI Act.

Financial Reporting Directions 10 requires entities to include a disclosure index in their annual reports that report the following:

- A list identifying the relevant clauses of Victorian legislation with statutory disclosure requirements that the entity has to comply with
- A short description of the relevant requirements

9 The data in this table is based on the number and type of decisions handed down by VCAT in 2025-2026, whether or not those decisions were as a result of appeals lodged in that year or previous years. This is necessary given the time that can often pass between an appeal being lodged, the mediation and other processes that can occur prior to a formal hearing, and a final decision being handed down by VCAT.

10 "Appeals withdrawn from VCAT" figures are also included in the "Other" column.

11 "Entity decision confirmed" includes situations where a case was struck out, or the matter was dismissed.

12 "Other" includes cases that were withdrawn or settled prior to the VCAT hearing or not yet decided by VCAT.
