I feel like everyone should be educated about how important recycling is and also taught how to use less waste.

Most people don't want to know and are a tiny bit aware but they don't know how important it is for our future.

I also agree that single use plastics should be banned and manufacturers should stop producing it.

I'm hoping for more bulk stores to be available to people because it would help if they were more accessible and less big supermarkets full of plastic.

Thank you I hope this helps and works.

I really believe in reducing waste, it feels good and is much healthier for everyone and the planet.
