I have been meeting with Karl Shanley from Sustainability Victoria on our ability to Chemically Process - waste plastic, (Plastic destined for Landfill) and convert this plastic, into valuable Fuels and Oils.

The first system is being built in the UK and the second in Canada. Last Friday the small country of Timor-Leste has signed an MOU to become the first "Plastic Neutral Country" where all their plastic will be saved from landfill and recycled into crude oil.

Our technology has the support of Planet Ark and Plastic Oceans.

We welcome the opportunity to showcase the technology to members of the inquiry.
