I went to Sweden last year where recycling is normal to the extent that the barcode on an item is scanned as the empty packaging comes through the recycle center allowing govt to know exactly how much is being recycled and where and can target education accordingly. Simple ways to reduce this unsustainable demand on packaging. We need your leadership on this to allow us to be more accountable for sustainable decision making in our daily lives. Waste less and recycling can not be optional extra decision making. Govt should back the innovations taking places and be a stand out country in policy making that sustains good decisions into the future. Dealing with out rubbish isn't rocket science and I am one of many that rally you to please take a stand here and back the environment and the waste less community growing strong in Australia. Lead the way. Don't encourage an unsustainable throw away society for our stunning country.
