

Submission: Inquiry into the external oversight of police corruption and misconduct in Victoria

Ms Kate Doherty

The deficiency of Police investigating police causes so much pain to mostly innocent women and children affected by police perpetrated domestic violence. Particularly for domestic violence which is characterised by a pattern of behaviour, individual incidents are underreported and under-recorded. Victoria has no chance to improve rates of violence until those responsible for controlling it are held to account themselves.