To whom it may concern.

Although I have lived in South Gippsland less than two years, I have visited the area on countless times in the past 45 years, sightseeing, bush walking, camping, holidaying and motorcycling. I would not have bothered to visit if the ugly destructive onshore gas industry was here at the time.

I would like my grand children to be able to experience Gippsland's clean food and beautiful landscape undamaged by the outdated filthy Fossil fuel industry.

Recently I have helped with milking on a typical dairy farm. On this farm of just over 200 acres there is about 6 'soaks' as the farmer calls them, they are springs where water flows (slowly) all year round, obviously this delicate natural resource would be under great threat if open cut coal mines or CSG rigs are introduced.

There are alternatives this short term madness. Refer to BZE.org.au for clean sustainable energy examples from around the World.
