Subject: Unconventional Gas Mining:

I would like it noted that I, a citizen of the state of Victoria, would ask the Victorian Government, to make a further study of the practice of 'fracking', and the possible detrimental environmental impacts it might have.

I do not believe that any Australian study has proved the practice to be safe, in all aspects of that word, in relation to the environment and the animals and people who utilise that environment.

If and when I see a comprehensive scientific study that proves this process to be benign, perhaps then it might be allowed to proceed. Until that time, I support a moratorium on this mining practice.

Thank you for your time,
David Metzenthén.
