I am a concerned citizen of Victoria who points out that the State has responsibilities to its people. No form of unconventional gas mining will meet the health standards which Victoria so proudly demonstrated.

We have productive land which must be retained to produce food. In the interests of long term employment, exports and good health, mining is a no brainer - except for those who are only interested in making a fast buck and i doubt that they will make much. Look at current research in other countries!

Please make Victoria a progressive and clean state!
