I am a primary producer and part of my land is covered by a CSG exploration license.
I am opposed to CSG in Victoria because:
I am not confident that the industry can protect aquifers
I am not confident that the industry can safely dispose of by product salts and minerals.
I am not convinced that the Victorian market needs more gas (the energy regulator has said as much)
The short term gain for quick cash will benefit the extracting company, not necessarily Australian, at the expense of long term agricultural production.
Gas production contributes to greenhouse gas emissions.
