

There is a clear benefits of unconventional gas industry in victoria untill we will find out better solution. At the moment all victorian houses and units not having gas connections. Which makes them to use costly electricity. Gas is cheaper option at the moment and will creat jobs if we do proper way. Gas is generating less smoke then coal. And can save money as well. Which is necessary in this weak economic conditions. Other states and countries also doing same. We need some measures to make economic growth. Australia is heavily relying on netural resources to make progress like soudi arabia. If we stop that now. Then it will be against state growth until we can have other reliable industries for sustainable economic growth and well being of people.it will give a boost to new jobs.

I am not able to appear at public hearing.

Thanks.

Rajeshkumar patel.

Sent from Samsung Mobile