To whom it may concern,

The reason activists do this work is because of inadequate animal protection and cruel treatment of them in our farming systems. I am grateful to them for bringing the truth to my attention. I would rather be informed so I can do something about it, such as changing my diet to vegan, which I did after the whistleblowers were in the news in April 2019. I watched Dominion and researched factory farming and was horrified to find out that there is basically no regulation to protect animals from inhumane treatment.

Let's not punish the people who are brave enough to go to the farm where this is happening and expose animal cruelty. They are not hurting any people by doing this.

Yours sincerely
Cindy Rudman.
