

Inquiry Name: Inquiry into the Impact of Animal Rights Activism on Victorian Agriculture

Rochelle Van Heerden
[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

SUBMISSION CONTENT:

--

We need whistleblowers and rescuers in this world. It keeps things transparent and challenges cruelty and corruption. Animals have rights too, and without whistleblowers and rescuers these rights are often violated. Animals suffer, they feel pain and joy and because of whistleblowers and rescuers there would've been much more suffering and the public would be less empowered when it came to making their own decisions. History shows us that laws need to be heavily challenged or broken for them to change or when there is a good reason to do so and that brings the public the truth and it saves lives. It must be done and the government should be in support of this. Business should not have more rights than the lives of animals or public awareness.

--

File1:

File2:

File3: