Submission to Inquiry into the Impact of Animal Rights Activism

The ideas behind this belief are embarrassingly incongruent.

No activist, so far, has opened a holiday home for cows, sheep and chickens to live out their lives until they pass on, in peace and freedom.

The only people giving farmed animals a life are the farmers and the people who buy those animals for meat later.

It may be a shortened life but it is more than any animal activist is giving.

This type of supposed animal activism is incongruent with its claimed goals and hypocritical in practice.
