This submission is very important for a better Australia. There are many people in Australia that feel the fact there are no protections for farmed animals in place and therefore horrific things are allowed to go on daily is unacceptable.. I believe as more and more people find out about what really happens in factory farms and slaughter houses there will great support for whistle blowers and rescuers.

These people are very important for a more compassionate future. Australia needs to lead the way and show we care about other sentient beings. That we are not afraid to throw open the doors and look at things that are hidden. We can show we are an open and compassionate country.

Australia is known as a land of freedom. As such we need to allow our citizens to stand for what we believe is right.

We cannot force people into accepting what they believe is unacceptable and wrong. If we do that we are no better than other totalitarian countries.

How can wanting to stop cruelty and misery be a crime ?
