The free tram zone should expand to UniMelb cuz the UniMelb tram stops are just 2-3 stops away from the Melbourne central station, also the CBD. There are many UniMelb students choosing there accommodations near the university so that they are more likely to attend the classes on time. However, the free tram zone doesn't include any tram stops at UniMelb, especially those stops that I thought should be in the zone, which are the high used stops like Stop9-Haymarket near the university's business building, Lincoln Square/Swanston Street, and Melbourne University/ Swanston Street near the university's student service stop 1. It is so costly and inconvenient for UniMelb students to take a tram to Melbourne central with spending 4.3 dollars every time on just a 2-stop trip... As all of u know, students are not rich, so it's really a pain in their ass to spend at least 40 dollars on transportation per month when they just go to a place 1km away from their home once a week? Thanks for ur patience for reading this long submission. Really hope that u could expand the free tram zone!
