Re: Expanding the free tram zone to or past University of Melbourne stops.

I believe this is a great initiative because:

1. more people will have access to free public transport, resulting in less traffic congestion.
2. Also means greater access to the important public spaces or institution, such as the National Gallery of Victoria, Arts Precinct in Southbank, the University of Melbourne and also the medical precinct (northern part of city).
3. For Melbourne visitor, this means that they can explore more and spend more in those areas due to the free transport incentives.

Thank you
