I use trains a lot and buses/trams a bit less. A few years ago there was talk of free transport over Melbourne for all. That would have been good for me.

As a c71 year old Aged pensioner with only that to rely on I would be interested in this happening:

A) Free Transport across all transport services in Victoria for Aged pensioners with a card that contains a picture, hidden date of birth and other data to prevent fraud. I would be prepared to pay $5-$10 for the issuance of the first card, maybe at the Post Office.

Alternatively:

B) A similar card where the Aged pensioner pays an annual fee so say $50-$100 with the same safeguards. If lost it should be cancelled and the person pays, say $5-$10 for a replacement card and a new file number.

Thank You

Kenneth
