I am a registered nurse, working in Latrobe Valley and living in south gippsland. I believe that it is unacceptable for our community to continue to be exposed to the evidenced and well documented harmful effects of pollution emitted by local power stations. Around the world power stations are mandated to use pollution control technologies and measures to reduce pollution and protecting communities health. How is it that our power stations are not mandated to do the same? This is criminal and completely negligent of both the EPA, and also the government.
