Just over a year ago I sat here in my home watching Sarsfield burn and had to put up with being blanketed in smoke. To have to put up with the smoke again this year is rekindleing the trauma, especially when I wake during the night. The smoke also causes me to develop an irritating cough and stinging eyes if it is around for a longer period,as it was over Easter. Finally it is most upsetting to think that after the devastation of the bushfires we are burning off more trees to the detriment of our remaining wildlife and future climate. Who gains from this ? DWELP . From what I hear from multiple sources they are being paid a packet and not satisfied with this chose the Easter break to busy themselves at double or triple time. Great for tourism?????
