As an Australian born woman of 76 years I have watched, sent letters to various government ministers urging that they protect the environment. I have joined organisations that lobby for the protection of our precious environment believing that we can not survive without a strong and vibrant land and its animals. It is quite evident that politicians seem to be ignorant to the need for a sustainable earth as they continued to log the old growth forest after the recent devastating bush fires. If that is not intent to destroy the environment I don't know what is.

At this very difficult time we are relying on our experts to get us through we are stumbling at times but I believe the politicians are doing their best.

Why then is it on such an important issue as the environment of Victoria we put a few jobs before the system that gives us life,sustains life for us all.

All the evidence is before you I don't need to lay it out again, the organisations lobbying for our future will have done this.

I sincerley hope you will make the right choice for all our and our family's sakes, not to mention future generations.

I remain

Anne McKenzie
