Please stop the relentless loss of wild life and wild life habitation. There should be no more logging of native forests and more space needs to be given for parks that are out of reach of commercial interests. One day there will be nothing left (at this rate) and then what? No logging, no jobs in forestry, no native diversity and nothing for future generations to enjoy. What sort of legacy is that? Please act now and stop the loss of native life: fauna and flora. Desperately saddened by the governments lack of commitment to saving our unique bush. Catherine Young
