

[REDACTED]

From: Steven Cahill <web@greens.org.au>
Sent: Thursday, 18 April 2019 11:44 AM
To: recyclinginquiry
Subject: Maybe Coles and Woollies can help

RE: INQUIRY INTO RECYCLING AND WASTE MANAGEMENT

Just wondering if the profits the supermarkets are making from the sale of plastic bags can be redirected to a 10c bottle return scheme?

It only seems fair, maybe they could even stop producing silly little plastic toys to collect. Surely smart marketing people can come up with a greener way to lure the kids in other than creating more unnecessary landfill.

-- Steven Cahill

[REDACTED]

I'm happy for my submission and details to be made public.