RE: INQUIRY INTO RECYCLING AND WASTE MANAGEMENT

As a property owner in Dallas, I'm outraged at this second fire so close to the house where my daughter, partner and young twins live. On both occasions they had to evacuate to my house for several days, disrupting their jobs, jeopardizing the children's health, ruining their soil. Now my grandchildren still have trauma, and anxious, have nose bleeds etc. My daughter's spending a lot of time campaigning for tighter regulations, an effective EPA, state govt recycling measures and more. My son-in-law had to take off all the top soil, buy replacement after the last fire. He's unsure this time if he should repeat that or just hope their veg won't poison them
