Subject: Where is our recycling industry?

RE: INQUIRY INTO RECYCLING AND WASTE MANAGEMENT

Since I was a child I have always been engaged with the environment and our lack of environmental protection at the local, state and federal government levels has always concerned me.

When will we have the container recycling scheme that we need so badly? (I grew up in California where the system has been working successfully for at least 30 years.)

Why aren't single use plastics being regulated so make it more likely that a recycling industry could succeed?

Where is the investment in solving this issue?

Am I wasting my time separating my waste?
