It's vital that a circular economy is developed in Victoria.
Our waste must be seen, understood and appreciated as the valuable resource it actually is .
Systems and infrastructure must be designed and built to create new, sustainable industries and products: Government must work closely with industry and business to achieve this shared goal.

Education for all ages of residents will be essential so that there's a majority 'buy-in':
advertising and information campaigns will be integral to our populations' collaboration.
Finally, our fauna and flora - all indigenous species, all genera - must be protected.
Expansive areas of nature are vital for our health and well-being.
