

[REDACTED]

From: phillip geschke <web@greens.org.au>
Sent: Thursday, 18 April 2019 8:13 PM
To: recyclinginquiry
Subject: If you can't recycle it keep it separate from contaminated waste

RE: INQUIRY INTO RECYCLING AND WASTE MANAGEMENT

Yes, recycle if you can

But if not, bury each waste stream seperarly with different levels and costs of methods of landfill Surely plastics can be placed in ground without need to prevent soils contamination because there won't be. It's ridiculous to see so many above ground storage's go up in flames.

Maybe you can dig it up and recycle it when the problem is solved.

But remove paper and plastic and metals from other waste- as we currently do

-- phillip geschke

[REDACTED]

I wish to remain confidential.