RE: INQUIRY INTO RECYCLING AND WASTE MANAGEMENT

We are one of the biggest countries in the world and we are sending our recycling goods to other countries. We need to own up and start taking responsibility of our own waste. We need to think about the future generations and think about what country we are leaving behind. It is disgusting that the governments just turn a blind eye and pretend it's not our problem when it's our own waste. Australians are good people and we need to do the right thing and educate others on what can be composted so we strive for very little landfill!
