A victim of crime

Drag the statements below to reorder them. In order of priority, please rank the themes you believe are most important for this inquiry into Victoria's criminal justice system to consider::

Policing, The experiences of victims of crimes in navigating the justice system, Rates of criminal activity, Rates of imprisonment, The level of training and expertise of judicial officers (e.g. expertise in sentencing), Number of people on remand (awaiting trial), Judicial appointment (e.g. guidelines and selection processes for appointing judges), Strategies for reducing reoffending (e.g. addressing risk factors like poor mental health), Specific prisoner cohorts (e.g. youth or Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander offenders), Alternatives to imprisonment (e.g. treatment programs or supervision orders)

YOUR SUBMISSION

Submission:

My husband had his identity stolen. They used it for the purpose of personal gain such as hiring goods in his name, electing him as the driver for several infringements in multiple states and suspected attempts at further misdeeds. However because he is not financially disadvantaged (had money directly stolen from him) no charges or investigation can occur. Police were disinterested and unhelpful. The various states where the infringements came from didn't care and for every infringement we had to fight prove this was not my husband and provide multiple pieces of evidence. To this day we still fear what may come in the letter box and future ramifications. Identity theft for the purpose of personal gain should be illegal.
