YOUR SUBMISSION

Submission:

Marijuana usage has never really bothered me, I've used it, I've had friends who enjoy it. I don't think it's as primary a cause of suffering in the world as past generations have made out. There are plenty of drinkers out there who have mental health problems, but there are also plenty of drinkers out there who have no mental health problems. I think it's just important to be happy, and marijuana can give people a new perspective on that. It remains associated with things that are good in society; philosophy, creativity, horticulture, laughing, music. Marijuana is in many ways, a far more cultured substance than most. What grows freely should remain free.
