I feel that if weed becomes legal than not much will change unless it is also decriminalised completely. I was Chicago in Feb and it just became recreationally legal over there in Jan and I didn't notice much of a difference in how I and they used the plant, if anything it just made it harder to get in a dispensary setting. Although stores that sold CBD & THC joints and edibles were my favourite! An edible store would be a dream come true, I'd start my own business in a flash! (Baked Bakers Society)

I personally smoke because of how much it improves my quality of life from crippling anxiety & depression and an eating disorder so that I can actually function highly in society. (No pun intended) It works instantly as well and it creates a calm that no prescription can safely provide without severe liver damage

Do you have any additional comments or suggestions?:

Thank you for taking the time to hear from the people on such a important impending issue. I hope that the government makes the right choice, the people need weed now more than ever. Imagine how many more suicide there would be without it. It's the only thing keeping me not only alive but hopeful during this tough time. Thank you again
