YOUR SUBMISSION

Submission:

Cannabis should be legal for personal use with reasonable restrictions on acquisition and use (e.g. age: 18+ in line with legal drinking age in AU; quantity: restricted to a reasonable amount for personal use and limit to number of plants personally grown to prevent effective distribution; use: in line with other intoxication restrictions).

Cannabis is no more dangerous to society/health than alcohol (in fact it is arguably less dangerous as aggression is not a typical effect of cannabis consumption, unlike alcohol), and has arguably fewer negative impacts on health than other normalised drug consumption such as cigarettes/caffeine. However, it is still important to present clear, concise and consistent information regarding it and its use to educate the public both to ensure safe engagement with cannabis and to remove any stigma.

Finally, legalisation and appropriate regulation (including ensuring quality and safe production) should reduce criminal activity related to cannabis trade and save police and court resources.
