YOUR SUBMISSION

Submission:

I am not a "user" as such of cannabis but I do however have the occasional joint of marijuana very occasionally. I am a sufferer of depression and anxiety, those very rare occasions that I'm offered a joint I take it and I do feel better and it complements my medication well. It's also long lasting of easing my mental health issues for more then one day which is unbelievable but it works. I also have many friends who are constant smokers of cannabis and they all work full time look after their families and a good people, they say the cannabis just helps them unwind after a day of work. I really think arresting good citizens and criminalising people for smoking a plant, is just so so wrong. Our government allows people to smoke tobacco which we know kills us and costs our health system greatly, but we allow it? I would like to see this drug legal and free for people to use. It helps and will stop people unnessecarily be imprisoned.
