YOUR SUBMISSION

Submission:

Cannabis is a drug that's more socially acceptable now more than ever. You can't stop an alcoholic from bulk buying alcohol and bingeing it which is way more harmful. I imagine there would be people that use too much cannabis as well but that comes down to education. People are always going to get a hold of it but they would be worse off as there's no quality control or regulation. Legalise cannabis and tax it and you'll get a lot more tax income but customers will also know they are getting proper product that isn't mixed with other nasties.

Some people like to drink a bit. Some people like to have a bit of cannabis. Just like drinking, moderation is key, however the health risk of excessive drinking far out way that of cannabis.
