I will willingly admit I smoke everyday.

Had my first experience with weed when I was in high school, not that I smoked often it was a social thing. I didn't really pick it up till I was around 20 years old and ever since then it has changed my life.

It's made me more caring, loving, funny and just puts me in a good mood.

The way I put it is I have a joint like someone would have a beer at the end of a day's work.

Yes I've worked full time and always have since I was 18 always worked and never let weed get in front of me.

I understand some might say it's a bad drug but those same people drink alcohol and just because that's legal it's okay for you?

I think we should legalise weed which will stop the criminal behaviour. We will know what we are buying, government gets their money? Win win right?

If everyone smoked we would all get along and be happy.

And the only argument I can see standing up to stop legalising weed is the kids.. how do we stop the kids getting to this?

Well let me just tell you this, kids will always get their hands on a legal substance and a matter of fact illegal too, kids these days are taking pills at 15 year old house parties. Forget about alcohol that's the main stream these days.

So how do we really stop these kids? The answer is we can't. Unfortunately kids will always do things they shouldn't but that's part of life.

Learn from your mistakes and try and live a good life, good life in your own eyes.. some are brought up in drug infested lives and that's hard but you can't see weed as a drug and is associated in the drug category like heroin or ice..

Weed has changed my life and is going to change a lot more lives ones we open our eyes and makes this happen
